Airliner Crashes Killing 14 People

No Survivors of Accident on Jersey Island, English Channel

Farm Worker Victim

ST. HELIER, Island of Jersey (AP) — Fourteen persons were killed today in one of Great Britain's worst airplane disasters when a fully-loaded passenger airliner crashed in a field just after taking off for Southampton, England.

The victims were nine men, four women and one child—the pilot, Capt. A. G. M. Cary, the radio operator, 11 passengers and a man working in the field where the plane crashed.

The plane, a four-motored De Haviland named St. Catharine's Bay, was operated by the Jersey Airways service over a route used by hundreds of holiday makers each year between Southampton and Jersey, in the English Channel.

The crash occurred at 10.52 a.m., soon after the take-off from the Jersey airport, several miles from St. Helier. It was seen to circle several times in the Channel Island fog, then it fell with a terrific crash about 600 yards from where it had started, toppled over and burst into flames. A few seconds later there was a loud explosion.

The machine fell directly on top of Edmund le Cornu, a field hand employed on St. Peter's farm. Early this year Cornu lost his wife, so their two infant children now are orphans.

AMBULANCES CALLED

Emergency calls quickly brought doctors, nurses, firemen and ambulances.

All those who lost their lives had addresses in the British Isles.

The first officer, who also acted as radio operator, was J. Lyons.

Ten of the passengers were tentatively identified as: Captain and Mrs. Swan and child, Mrs. Cox, Mr. Spring, Mr. Hansford, Mr. Kersley, Mr. Berry and Major and Mrs. Voisin.

Captain Swan was personal pilot to the Marquess of Linlithgow, Viceroy of India, and was en route to India to resume his duties after a holiday in England.

Louis Morris, a motion picture theatre proprietor of London, had booked passage on the plane, but arrived at the airport a few seconds after it had taken off.

The only recent comparable disaster in Britain was the crash of a Netherlands airliner at Croydon airport December 9, 1936, when 14 persons were killed, including Juan de La Cierva, inventor of the autogiro.

It was the worst disaster involving a British airliner since the Imperial Airways "City of Liverpool" crashed at Dixmude, Belgium, in March, 1933, causing 15 deaths.

Carl E. Schultze, U.S. Cartoonist, III

NEW YORK (AP)—Carl E. Schultze, 73, creator of that sly comic character "Foxy Grandpa" whose antics amused children and adults alike at the turn of the century, was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital today after suffering a severe heart attack.

A pioneer newspaper comic artist, Schultze retired 11 years ago.

SOUTH AFRICAN NEUTRALITY DEBATE

Envoy in London Denies Policy of No Help to Britain Adopted

LONDON (CP)—Reports South Africa had adopted a policy of full neutrality during the Czech-German crisis today were termed "absolutely untrue" by Charles te Water, South African High Commissioner in the United Kingdom.

According to published reports the South African government informed the United Kingdom government of its intention to remain neutral in the event of a European war. It was alleged this decision was conveyed to Malcolm MacDonald, Secretary for the Dominions and Colonies, by Mr. te Water on September 27 during the height of the crisis.

The reports may form the basis of questions in Parliament. The Dominions Office today declined to comment.

No Wage Cut on U.S. Railways

Lines Tell Roosevelt Notice Canceled; New Co-operation Is Hope

CHICAGO (AP)—J. J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, announced today the major roads of the nation would withdraw their present notice of a 15 per cent wage cut for nearly 1,000,000 workers.

Pelley said he was sending a telegram to President Roosevelt informing him "the railroads are taking this action not because they agree with the conclusions reached by the fact-finding board, but because they recognize the gravity of the situation and because they hope that out of it will come, through the co-operation of all concerned, a sounder and more equitable transportation policy in this country."

MEET IN CHICAGO

The telegram said:

"In our conference on October 31 you asked me to inform you what the railroads would do about the recommendation of the emergency board no horizontal reduction of railway wages on a national scale should be pressed at this time.

"The chief executives of the railroads concerned met in Chicago today to consider the situation created by the report of the board. I advised them of your expressed desire to be of help in the present situation, and of your hope there will be developed a constructive program of legislation which you will be able to support at the next session of Congress.

"I have, therefore, been authorized to advise you the railroads will withdraw the present notices of wage reductions."

Edmonton Orders Trackless Trolleys

EDMONTON (CP) — Purchase of six trackless trolley buses at a cost of $105,000 has been ordered by the city council as first step in a long-range $2,500,000 program designed to modernize Edmonton's transit system.

The program, suggested this year by Norman D. Wilson, noted traffic authority, calls for gradual abandonment of street cars over a 15-year period.

SIR J. DE HOGHTON DIES

MURTHLEY, Perthshire, Scotland (CP)—Sir James de Hoghton, 87, landowner and a veteran of the Ashantee war of 1873, died today.

Fires Fought in Great Areas of United States

Forest and Prairie Outbreaks Keep Men Busy in 13 States

Big Illinois Loss

CHICAGO (AP)—An army of experts and volunteers today strove to check forest and prairie fires in arid areas of 13 states.

In at least two states in the blaze belt—extending from the Ohio River valley to the Gulf of Mexico and from the Mississippi watershed to the Atlantic seaboard—weary forces succeeded in stemming conflagrations.

In several others they were heartened by prospects of rain.

Fires in Wayne and Hamilton counties in southern Illinois were reported "about under control." Forestry chiefs enlisted 1,700 Works Progress Administration employees, Civilian Conservation Corp enrollees and farmers in the battle.

In neighboring Indiana, a dying wind aided C.C.C. workers and farmers in gaining control of a fire northwest of Columbus after it had burned over 2,000 acres.

The Michigan conservation department estimated 4,355 acres of lower peninsula woodland had been charred. The largest blaze covered nearly 2,000 acres in Presque Isle County. Reinforcements were sent to the aid of 2,000 men in the fields.

Snow Diggers Given Work in Edmonton

EDMONTON (CP)—Sweepers were brought into action for the first time this season today to clear Edmonton streets as a heavy snowfall blanketed northern Alberta. The overnight fall in the Edmonton district totaled 5½ inches, with a low temperature of 20 degrees above zero. A light snowfall was experienced in the Calgary district, but disappeared almost immediately.

Train Hits Slide In Fraser Canyon

Three Men Hurt When Freight Ploughs Into Rocks

VANCOUVER (CP) — Three railway men were injured late last night when a fast transcontinental Canadian National Railways freight train hit a rock slide in the Fraser canyon 150 miles northeast of here.

Railway officials here said the engine, tender and three cars toppled 50 feet into the canyon, but came to a stop clear of the water. The five-man crew jumped before the freight dropped over the cliff.

Injured were engineer V. Wright, Vancouver, shock; fireman E. Dagg, Vancouver, leg injury, and brakeman D. Erwin, Vancouver, scalp wound. None were seriously hurt.

The freight train conductor and rear-end brakeman, whose names were not given, escaped uninjured.

The injured men were brought to Vancouver this morning. Brakeman Erwin was taken to a hospital and Engineer Wright and Fireman Dagg went to their homes without further treatment. The Canadian National Railways reported the line clear at 8 a.m.

Following word of the mishap an auxiliary train with first aid and wrecking equipment left the Port Mann yard at New Westminster at midnight and sped to the scene, between Yale and Stout on the C.N.R. main line.

A doctor was picked up at Chilliwack, 70 miles east of here, to treat the injured men.

NO COLONIES GIFT—Being considered today by all leaders in Europe studying a solution of Germany's demand for colonies was the statement of Premier Paul H. Spaak (above) of Belgium: "The Congo is ours." That declaration to Parliament at Brussels was taken as indirect notice to the powers Belgium would not sacrifice any of its African territory at Hitler's call.

Parking Meters Here Considered

But Not Ready to Use Proposed Powers Now, McGavin Says

Victoria asked the municipal committee of the Legislature today to give it the right to install parking meters on the city streets.

"We do not anticipate doing this now," said Mayor Andrew McGavin, "but we may. Vancouver got the power in its charter last year and we want to keep abreast of Vancouver."

After hearing opinions on the subject the committee declined to place the proposed powers in the Municipal Act, which covers all cities and towns, but suggested Victoria seek special authority.

"It's a mistake to have it in the Municipal Act when only Victoria wants it," said Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Municipal Affairs. "I do not think you could get your council to agree to it anyway. How are you going to put it up to your business men? Don't you think they have some rights?

"Well, it's done in other cities," said Mayor McGavin.

"Yes, but it's on the way out," interjected J. A. Paton, Conservative, Point Grey.

"I've studied them in Seattle and Portland and they are not satisfactory," said Mr. Gray, suggesting Victoria hold the request over a year.

"It's permissive only," said W. T. Straith, Liberal, Victoria. "The council wouldn't insist on meters unless the people wanted them."

"That's not a very good reason for putting it on the statute books," said Mr. Gray.

It was finally decided to delete the clause from the general act and let Victoria argue for special powers on the subject.

PARKING LOTS

The committee approved a clause which will allow councils to purchase or lease land for the purpose of municipal parking lots and to charge for parking.

Another clause allows councils to give grants to boards of trade and chambers of commerce.

"This is being done by some councils now," said Mr. Straith. "We might as well legalize it."

"In Victoria, for instance, the chamber's secretary does work for the municipality on the May 24 celebration, Navy Week and similar affairs."

Extend Time On Voters' Lists

The date for registration of householders on municipal voters' lists will be from September 30 to October 31 under amendments to the Municipal Elections Act proposed before the municipal committee of the Legislature this morning.

It has been found that closing of the lists at the end of September works a hardship, it was explained. With summer holidays intervening just before the last month of registration, and other considerations, it is difficult to get the list complete in time.

Hope for New Era In Europe, Says King's Speech

Peace Moves Since Crisis Estimated as M.P.'s Prorogue

Next Session Nov. 8

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON—The King's speech at the prorogation of Parliament today expressed the hope "a new era may have been opened for Europe" as a result of the settlement of the September crisis.

The speech, read by proxy in the House of Lords, gave credit to Premier Mussolini, President Roosevelt, Viscount Runciman and Prime Minister Chamberlain for their parts in arranging a peaceful settlement.

After a short ceremony, Parliament adjourned until next Tuesday, when the King will open the next session in person.

For the most part the speech was a review of the legislation passed at the session which was almost a year old. In reference to the recent threat of war, it said "the desire of all peoples not to be drawn into war with one another is manifest and significant, and everywhere men and women share with me, I am convinced, a feeling of deep thankfulness that the imminent peril was thus averted."

PRAISE FOR CZECHS

It lauded the "dignity" with which Czechoslovakia accepted her fate, the "valuable support" given Prime Minister Chamberlain by Premier Mussolini of Italy in connection with the proposed four-power conference and the "timely action" of President Roosevelt in "powerfully aiding" the cause of peace. It bespoke pride in the "calmness and determination displayed by all my people."

It said the government was confident the Anglo-Italian agreement soon to be put into effect would "further strengthen the good relations already existing between Italy and this country." Reduction of the number of foreigners fighting in Spain on either side was noted.

As the session ended the government, frankly admitting serious deficiencies in the rearmament and civilian defence programs, embarked on a new effort to repair the faults.

DELAY IN DATE OF DRIVING TEST

Examinations Put Off By Delay in Building Alterations

Driving tests for B.C. motorists will probably start the end of this month, B.C. Police officials indicated this morning.

It was intended the tests should start at the beginning of this month but delay in setting up the equipment has been chiefly responsible in delaying them.

Men to be employed as testers are being put through strict tests, both written and practical and the full staff to conduct the tests has not yet been completed.

In Victoria the tests will be conducted in the old Menzies Street drill hall where extensive interior alterations are now being made.

B.C. Movie Quota Before Cabinet

Proposals for a movie quota law in British Columbia designed to protect the local film industry have been placed before the provincial cabinet by W. T. Straith, Liberal member for Victoria.

"We have asked Mr. Straith to look into the subject further," Premier Pattullo said this morning.

"We are not sure just what the effect of such a law would be on the industry as a whole and we have suggested he look into this situation," he added.

Mr. Straith suggested, tentatively, that the proposed law might require movie houses in the province to show one B.C.-made film for every 25 films produced outside the country.

He argued this would not only mean preserving and building up payrolls in the province, but would give local talent a chance to be discovered.

SEEKS VANCOUVER MAYORALTY — Dr. Lyle Telford will be a candidate for Mayor of Vancouver he said during his speech in the Legislature today. "I am disappointed," he said, "that G. G. McGeer has got cold feet and is backing out," claiming that Mr. McGeer had said he would be a candidate if he, Dr. Telford, ran for the office.

NEILL TO RUN AS INDEPENDENT

COURTENAY — A. W. Neill was urged to run again as an Independent for the Comox-Alberni riding by a joint meeting of Liberals and Conservatives here last night.

Mr. Neill said he considered it the greatest honor he had ever received and with the pledged support of so many key men of each party he would be glad to accept the invitation to run as a straight independent.

Japanese Warn Neutral Gunboats

Say Rivers Must Be Cleared for Mop-up Campaign From Hankow

SHANGHAI (AP)—Japanese authorities warned neutral powers Friday to send their gunboats up the Yangtze River at least as far as Shasi, 120 miles west of Hankow, and designated the area between Hankow and Shasi a zone of hostilities.

The Japanese memorandum also advised foreign vessels in the Siang River, which empties into the Yangtze through Lake Tungting, to proceed upstream as far as Changsha, 180 miles south of the Japanese Hankow base.

It added there was now "no section of China over which Japanese planes cannot operate," and suggested all neutral vessels, regardless of their location, inform the Japanese of their whereabouts.

Chinese forces reported they had inflicted 1,500 Japanese casualties in desperate battles in the Tungshan mountains south of Hankow.

Severe fighting also was in progress at the south end of the Canton railway near Samshui.

A dispatch from Hongkong said 11 Kwangsi Province divisions, totaling nearly 200,000 fully equipped troops, were reported by Chinese to be advancing toward Samshui, 25 miles west of Canton, in a general counter-offensive against the Japanese along the West River.

Swiss Checking Nazi Activities

BERNE, Switzerland (AP)—President Johannes Baumann today called an extraordinary meeting of Swiss police chiefs to consider measures for stamping out increasing Nazi activity in Switzerland.

The President, who also is Minister of Justice and Police, asked the heads of police departments of several cantons to meet him at Berne.

Sabotage Charge On Ship Blast

MUSSOLINI WARNS AGAINST REVENGE

Scores Opponents of Peace Based on Czech Dismemberment

ROME (AP)—Premier Mussolini warned the country today against men who "are dreaming of speculative and impossible revenge."

"For this reason," he told a crowd massed before the Palazzo Venezia for ceremonies marking the 20th anniversary of the Italian Great War victory over Austria, "there is still need of sleeping with our heads on our backs as we did in the trenches."

Mussolini evidently was referring to factions abroad whom he regards as being opposed to policies of general European appeasement on the basis of the four-power Munich accord which sliced up Czechoslovakia.

Kidnappers Face Murder Charges

Four in New York Confess; To Be Tried For Fried Slaying

NEW YORK (AP)—The district attorney's office today announced murder charges would be pressed against four alleged members of a "sharp syndicate" accused of slaying Arthur Fried, White Plains business man, and kidnapping two Brooklyn residents who were released after ransom payments.

At the same time, officials announced part of a human jawbone with several teeth still intact had been found by police digging in the basement of the Ukrainian Hall, an East Side social establishment where one of the kidnappers said Fried's body was cremated in a furnace.

A quantity of bones unearthed yesterday were found to be those of animals.

Today's discovery started the police on an investigation of the possibility an additional victim may have fallen prey to the gang. Medical examiners said the jawbone was that of a person who had died recently.

Fried was kidnapped last December 4 and killed, confessions said, four days later.

CONFESSIONS GIVEN

Assistant District Attorney Joseph Rosenblum, after all-night questioning, announced the four prisoners had confessed, and evidence against them would be presented immediately to the grand jury.

The confessions, he said, were obtained from Demetrius Gula, 30; William Jacknis, 27, and John Virga, 34, arrested Tuesday by federal agents, and Joseph Stephen Sacoda, 28, who recently was sent to Sing Sing prison for violation of parole.

Rosenblum said the men told of kidnapping Fried in the Westchester County city and taking him to Ukrainian Hall, on lower Sixth Avenue, Manhattan, after ransom negotiations had failed.

Rosenblum said the prisoners also confessed to the abductions of Benjamin Farber, 33, Brooklyn business man, whose relatives paid $1,900 ransom for his release, and Norman Miller, 19-year-old son of a Brooklyn stevedore contractor.

Rosenblum said he would seek indictments for the three kidnappings in addition to a true bill for murder in the Fried case.

MAN MISSING

VANCOUVER (CP) — City police received a request today to aid in the search for Ed Peters, 54, retired shingle company foreman missing from his downtown home since Wednesday.

Clique Wrecked Vancouver, Says German Consul

California Probes

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Baron Manfred von Killinger, German consul-general at San Francisco, declared today "an act of criminal sabotage" was responsible for the explosion which tore a hole in the steamship Vancouver here yesterday.

Von Killinger's statement was issued after the Commerce Department at Washington had appointed a board to investigate the explosion which damaged the German vessel.

The consul's statement blamed the explosion on "a small clique aiming to destroy by secret warfare the basis of ordered society."

A theory of sabotage grew stronger as six separate investigations probed the sinking of the ship. The vessel, held to the shore of the Oakland estuary, was reported taking water faster than three pumps could empty the hull.

A boom fell on the ship's deck and members of the crew said they felt apprehensive for their safety. No one was injured and the accident caused only slight damage.

COLUMN OF WATER

"As a former naval officer, I know the effects of explosives in warfare," Baron von Killinger said in a statement. "The geyser thrown up by the explosion to the height of the ship's mast can only have been caused by the detonation of chemicals applied to the outside of the ship.

"Also, there were no fatal injuries to anybody in the interior of the ship. Inside explosions almost always result in loss of life.

"The ship's plates are bent inward, according to the testimony of the diver.

"The conclusion I leave to the public. The very active investigation by the authorities will establish that an act of criminal sabotage was committed.

"I deeply regret the printed attacks against my country have now resulted in concrete disaster.

"Five brave seamen and a good ship, destined to help in fostering peaceful commerce between our countries, are laid up as the result of a criminal assault on a public carrier, with American travelers and merchandise aboard.

"Had the explosion taken place only 10 minutes later, in the open bay, loss of lives of American citizens as well as of my own countrymen, would undoubtedly have been involved.

"There is some consolation in the hope this rotten act will open the eyes of the general public to the effect of irresponsible poisoning of public opinion perpetrated by a small clique aiming to destroy by secret warfare the basis of ordered society.

"You know whom I mean."

SALVORS WORKING

Efforts were started today to raise the 477-foot vessel from a mudbank in Oakland Estuary, where she settled stern-down after the blast.

Four members of the crew of 54 were injured by the blast. Eight passengers on the ship were not harmed, and called the experience "tremendously exciting."

An exhaustive investigation aboard the vessel last night by District Attorney Earl Warren, Federal Bureau of Investigation agents and other officials brought a closely-guarded statement from Warren that "we are of the opinion the explosion was not in the engine room or in the ship itself."

Because of international implications, Warren declined to say the explosion was the work of saboteurs until the vessel could be raised and an examination of the hole made.

But German officers and crew members declared the blast was not accidental.

Three crew men who were standing at the control board in the engine room, six yards forward from where the blast took place, said the "detonation" must have happened outside the ship, or they wouldn't have been alive to tell their stories.

They were showered with steel particles and suffered minor cuts and bruises.

Chamberlain to Visit Paris

PARIS (AP) — The Foreign Ministry announced tonight that Prime Minister Chamberlain and Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary of Great Britain, had accepted an invitation of the French government to pay an official visit to Paris from November 23 to 25.

A Foreign Office spokesman said the British statesmen would "exchange views" with members of the French government on the general situation.

He added the visitors would be accompanied by their wives, indicating the program would include social functions.

Diplomats expressed belief the projected visit was prompted by a desire to demonstrate the continued close co-operation of the British and French governments rather than the need of negotiating of any particular problem.

Such a show of union, it was said, is considered desirable in the face of recent demonstrations of the strength of the Rome-Berlin axis, such as Wednesday's decision awarding Czechoslovak territory to Hungary.

New Defence Steps In U.S.

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP)—President Roosevelt told a press conference today it had been decided to reopen the New Orleans navy yard and the wartime armor plate plant in West Virginia.

He said the decision resulted from a series of surveys, adding the latter plant would not be used for armor-plate manufacture but for an unnamed government purpose.

The President said that in rounding out national defence expansion, efforts would be made to utilize all unused land and plants owned by the government instead of buying private property for the work, thus effecting a large saving for the government.

The President revealed a survey was being made of all unused government land and plants which might be fit for operation in prosecuting the new defence program.

PREMIER KING HOMEWARD BOUND

In New York on Return From Vacation Cruise in Caribbean

NEW YORK (CP) — Sunbronzed after a three-weeks' Caribbean holiday, Prime Minister King and Dr. O. D. Skelton, under-secretary of state for external affairs, returned to New York today on the steamship Rotterdam en route for Ottawa.

The Prime Minister said he had not yet decided when he would leave for the Canadian capital, but that he expected to stay in New York over the weekend to "round out a most delightful vacation."

"We were very tired when we left Ottawa following the harassing days of the European crisis but we return refreshed and ready for work," Mr. King said.

He declined to comment on world political developments, saying he "was entirely out of touch with things."

The Prime Minister said he had no information on how near conclusion the Canadian-United States trade negotiations might be.

"I don't expect to go to Washington to sign the pact this trip," he said, "but when negotiations are completed I will return to sign the treaty," he added.

Mr. King's trip took him to Bermuda, Jamaica, Cuba and Nassau.

POLICY NUMBER IDENTIFIES MAN

Vancouver Amnesia Victim Found to Be Montreal Resident

VANCOUVER (CP) Vancouver police said today a man who walked into headquarters Tuesday night and said he had lost his memory was Alcide Edmond Charron of Montreal.

A telegram from Charron's wife aided them in solving the identity of the man, from whose clothing all identification marks had been removed. An insurance policy number was used to make the identification positive.

Mrs. Charron's wire said her husband left Montreal October 1. He had been missing after that until he went to police headquarters here and asked police to find out who he was.

Charron has been under hospital care since his appearance in the police office.

Three in Hamilton Face Narcotic Trial

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP)—Liugi and Daniel Gasparini and Gilbert Haggerty, all of Edmonton, appeared in court today charged with possession under the Narcotics Act. They were arrested last night by a Royal Canadian Mounted Police raiding squad.

Officers claim they found 200 capsules of heroin.

Bail of $25,000 each was asked for the Gasparinis and $10,000 for Haggerty. Magistrate H. A. Burbidge later reduced the Gasparinis' bail to $8,000 each and set the trial for November 15.

Malcolm Campbell Builds New Boat

QUEBEC (CP) — There is no limit to speed man can attain on land, water or in the air, Sir Malcolm Campbell, the world's speedboat king and once holder of the automobile speed record, said here yesterday in a shipboard interview. He arrived on his way to Detroit on business.

The famous sportsman said he was building a new speed boat to beat the record of 130.9 miles an hour he set recently in Switzerland.

Sir Malcolm explained he had turned to boat racing after leaving the world's land speed mark at better than 300 m.p.h., because "there is much more to be discovered."

He said the British navy was "interested" in speed boating in view of the use of small but fast torpedo craft by some world powers. "Some of Italy's torpedo boats do 52 knots, ours only 38."

Asked if he intended to challenge the United States' possession of the Harmsworth Trophy, Sir Malcolm replied he would "like to have a go at it, though I have no definite plans."

Old Books Issue At Bren Inquiry

H. Plaxton Completes Testimony After Tilt With Lt.-Col. G. A. Drew

OTTAWA (CP)—Cross-examination of Herbert Plaxton by Lieut.-Col. George Drew, K.C., which brought fireworks at the close of yesterday's Bren gun inquiry session, ended suddenly when the commission resumed today. Immediately after Commisioner H. H. Davis had taken the bench Col Drew announced he was through with the witness.

"I do not propose, Mr. Commissioner, to waste any further efforts to get facts from this witness," Col. Drew said. "I have no more questions."

Mr. Plaxton, member of the Toronto law firm bearing his name, is counsel and business associate of Major J. E. Hahn, president of the John Inglis Company Limited, Toronto, which firm has a contract to supply the defence department with 7,000 Bren machine-guns.

Yesterday afternoon Col. Drew was charged by Mr. Plaxton with attempting to burke the inquiry and with an underhand attempt to involve Hugh Plaxton, Liberal M.P. for Toronto-Trinity, in the affairs of the John Inglis Co. Limited.

Mr. Plaxton said an accumulation of stenographers' old notebooks had been thrown out of the law office of Plaxton and Company in Toronto about the time Col. Drew's article in Maclean's Magazine appeared last August.

Some time later, Mr. Plaxton said, he learned Gordon Balfour, Col. Drew's law partner, had approached charwomen employed in the office building and applied pressure to them in an attempt to obtain statements to the effect original documents of the Inglis Company had been torn up and thrown out and that in these documents appeared the names of his brothers, J. O. Plaxton, a law partner, and Hugh, the member of Parliament.

Counsel and spectators who had listened to Mr. Plaxton's evidence throughout the day on the incorporation of the Inglis and other companies and on share transactions became tense as the witness lashed out at Col. Drew, who was cross-examining him.

DENIES CHARGES

His statement was a long one and afterwards Col. Drew said the only interviews he and his partners had in connection with the inquiry were in the ordinary course of examining prospective witnesses for the probe. Some 50 or 60 people altogether had been interviewed.

Afterwards Col. Drew told newspapermen there was no truth in Mr. Plaxton's charges and Mr. Balfour would be called as a witness to disprove them.

QUESTIONS ON VOUCHERS

At this forenoon's session, after Col. Drew had dismissed Mr. Plaxton as a witness Mr. Justice Davis questioned Mr. Plaxton in detail on a file of vouchers covering his firm's legal account against the Inglis company.

He had discussed the account with Major J. E. Hahn before presenting it, Mr. Plaxton said, and Hahn had raised no objections to the charges.

Former Victorian Passes at Comox

COURTENAY — Herbert G. Anderson, former well-known Victoria resident, died at St. Joseph's Hospital, Comox, in his 64th year. He had been in indifferent health for some years, and last year was compelled to resign his position with the Provincial Public Works Department owing to ill-health.

Born in England, where he lived in Somersetshire and London before coming to Canada, he was for some years manager of the Balmoral Hotel, Victoria, until 1912, when he joined the Public Works Department. During the war he served overseas with the 102nd, which he joined at Prince Rupert, and was badly wounded during the taking of Regina trench. He rejoined the Public Works Department in 1928, and came to Courtenay in 1931.

Chinese Sawed Himself in Two

DUNCAN—Soo Don, a Chinese worker on the saw floor of the Victoria Lumber & Manufacturing Co.'s shingle mill at Chemainps, chose a horrible way of committing suicide.

He placed himself in the shingle block carriage of the shingle-cutting machine which he was tending, and released the power so that the saw severed his body at the pelvis.

"Deliberately self-inflicted suicide" was the verdict reached by the jury at an inquest conducted at Chemainus by Alfred E. Green, coroner.

Hon. Norman Rogers Returns to Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. Norman Rogers, Minister of Labor, just back from a trip across the Dominion to the B.C. coast, returned to his office today to deal with business accumulated in his absence.

"It was a routine trip to study the unemployment relief problems of the various provincial governments at first hand," the minister said, adding he tried to make at least one trip across the country each year to familiarize himself with conditions encountered by the provincial governments.

DEATH CAUSES UNKNOWN

VANCOUVER (CP) — The death of Mrs. Rose Gilbert, 20, on October 27 was due to causes unknown and was not the result of an automobile accident which took the life of her husband, a coroner's jury found last night.

William Cox, alleged driver of the automobile involved in the collision with Gilbert's car, was convicted of manslaughter after Gilbert's death. The accident occurred August 19.

90th Birthday Passes Quietly

Henry Wilson Looks Back Over Half-century In Victoria West

Henry Wilson of 436 Springfield Avenue had his 90th birthday yesterday—and treated it just like any other day.

Where most people would have been having a special celebration of the day which put them a whole score years past their allotted span, Mr. Wilson slipped quietly out to spend the evening at a meeting of one of the several lodges to which he belongs.

From the windows of his house in Victoria West he has seen all but a few months of a half-century of the city's growth.

Mr. Wilson was born in London. In 1875 he was married there. Fourteen years later, in 1889, he came to Victoria with his wife and his growing family.

By profession he was a marine engineer, but he owned ships as well as sailed in them. They were two schooners in the sealing trade.

During the Great War Mr. Wilson offered his services to the Royal Canadian Navy and worked in the naval yard at Esquimalt. He retired after the war and settled down to give his time to his hobby, photography, in which he is an expert.

Mrs. Wilson died two years ago.

Mr. Wilson has a daughter, the wife of Rev. Charles Durden, D.D., of Omaha, Nebraska, and three sons, Percy W. Wilson of 1837 Crescent Road, Victoria; Archibald, of Lake Hill, and Frederick, who lives in Portland.

He also has 13 grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

Park Residents Discuss Secession

WATERTON, Alta. (CP)—A meeting of Waterton residents to discuss "secession" of Waterton, Jasper and Banff National Parks from the province of Alberta has been called for an early date here.

The meeting originally was scheduled for tonight, but has been postponed.

Under the secession plan, the three parks would be taken out of the province and placed wholly under federal control. Residents of the parks claim certain taxation, licensing and other restrictions and regulations imposed by the provincial government are detrimental to development of the parks.

JEWISH LAWYERS BARRED

BERLIN (AP) — All Jewish patent attorneys will be barred from practice in Germany after November 30. A decree published yesterday supplements special decrees of October 17, which limited to 175 the number of Jewish attorneys permitted to practice in Germany after December 1. At present 1,600 Jews still practice law, including 41 Berlin patent attorneys.

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Two heat records were broken here yesterday. The temperature at 3 p.m. was 75, the hottest November 3 in 65 years of district weather records.

Oak Bay council having put the Willows road into condition at a cost of $700, and the road being the main approach to several city institutions, the city has agreed to pay one-half of the cost.

PAGAN CHILDREN ALSO IN CANADA

Rev. J. L. W. McLean, Victoria, Addresses B.C. Presbyterian Synod

VANCOUVER (CP)—Rev. J. L. W. McLean of St. Andrew's Church, Victoria, told the Presbyterian Synod of British Columbia here yesterday there are children growing up in Canada as pagan as any in Africa to whom the church is sending missionaries.

Mr. McLean made the remark after listening to a report on young people's work, given by Rev. McLean Bell of North Vancouver. It was in reference to a comment in the report that there was a decrease in attendance in young people's societies and the lack of religious education in schools.

At its closing session the Synod passed a resolution deploring the fact there is no provision for religious instruction in public schools in the province. The motion added the Synod gave its heartiest support to any efforts to change the provincial Education Act and bring about such instruction in the schools.

BUDGET DISCUSSION

The Synod, under the moderatorship of Rev. F. G. St. Denis, heard a recommendation from the budget committee that the Synod budget be set at $12,300 instead of $15,000 as allocated from the General Assembly. The Presbytery allocations were set at $2,500 for Victoria, formerly $4,000; $9,000 for Westminster, formerly $10,000; $800 for the Kootenay, formerly $1,000.

Considerable discussion arose from the budget report. Rev. Mr. McLean brought a protest from Victoria on the subject of budget allocations.

"I will not accept a budget allocation miles over our heads," he said.

Rev. J. Munro of Chilliwack agreed with him and said the whole subject of allocations was "out of date."

The meeting resolved to make a serious study of social conditions and to join forces with all who are working for the amelioration of present-day evils.

No Interference By Ontario Pickets

TORONTO (CP) — A warning that picketing of labor disputes must not be permitted to interfere with every man's right to work if he wishes is contained in a statement issued by Hon. Gordon Conant, Ontario Attorney-General. The statement was sent yesterday to law enforcement officers throughout the province.

It is quite lawful, the declaration maintains, for pickets to give a man their reasons why he should not go to work, or for them to interrogate workers entering or leaving a plant.

Colebourne Died On His Birthday

Wife on Stand in Assize Court More Than Four Hours

Sydney Colebourne, for whose death his wife, Mrs. Vera Colebourne, is facing a charge of murder, met death on his birthday, or the day before, it was disclosed during the evidence in the Assize Court yesterday.

Mrs. Colebourne was on the stand for more than four hours. She frequently used smelling salts from a bottle she gripped during her time in the witness box.

During cross examination by M. B. Jackson, K.C., crown counsel, she said her husband's birthday was either April 1 or 2. She denied having said to a friend in the latter part of March that her troubles would be all over by the time of her husband's birthday.

She was questioned by counsel regarding an alleged friendship with a man referred to as "J.R." Counsel brought forth statements from Mrs. Colebourne that while she lived in Brefny House, following her separation from Colebourne, "J.R." had occupied an adjoining suite and had shared with her the use of kitchen facilities.

SAID ACTIONS GENTLEMANLY

Mrs. Colebourne protested against his questioning on that point. "R," she said, had been invited to the Colebourne home by her husband prior to the separation and had always acted in a gentlemanly manner.

Mr. Jackson also suggested certain documents which Mrs. Colebourne said were copies she had made of original letters she found in her husband's wallet were not copies and that the originals did not exist. She maintained they were copies.

The crown prosecutor also referred to testimony by Mrs. Colebourne to the effect her husband would not explain the reason for Colebourne keeping a revolver under his pillow.

Duncan Schools

DUNCAN — A delegation from the Duncan P.T.A. attended the meeting of the Duncan School Board Wednesday evening seeking permission for the use of one of the schoolrooms for their meetings. Use of the school library was granted. The school management committee reported installation of a radio in the high school. The elementary school asked permission to obtain figures on the cost of a central radio with a broadcasting panel in each room. This would not necessarily be at the expense of the board as some funds were on hand. The supplies and repairs committee recommended that a forced draft system of heating be placed in the junior high school at an approximate cost of $440. This was left in the hands of the chairman of the finance, supplies and repair committee, with power to act.

Cowichan Chapter, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, met at the home of Mrs. F. H. Price Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. W. R. Russell being in the chair. Poppies were offered for Armistice Day and arrangements made for members to attend the service at the cenotaph. Tentative plans were made for a welcoming party for new children arriving at Fairbridge Farm School.

You Can Serve Saanich-grown Fresh Vegetables All Winter!

After nearly two years preparation The B. Wilson Company Ltd. now announce that Saanich-grown Frosted Fruits and Vegetables are on sale at David Spencer Ltd. and The Hudson's Bay Company stores. This is an entirely new industry for Victoria . . . the quick-freezing of farm-fresh fruits and vegetables . . . and to the women of Victoria it will come as an agreeable surprise that they can serve delicious fresh fruits and vegetables all through the winter. Plan today to have your first taste of these Frosted Foods made possible by the miracle of quick-freezing.

Quick Freezing Seals in All the Freshness of These Fruits and Vegetables

Last spring special shipments of seeds were imported by the H. B. Wilson Company Ltd. They were planted and grown under the most careful supervision of agricultural experts in Saanich. They were harvested and rushed straight to our quick-freezing plant. This speed is important because in less than four hours after cutting they are plunged into a below-zero temperature and all the freshness and flavor is sealed in. That is why you get the same delicious flavor that you would expect from fresh fruits and vegetables picked in mid-June. There is no waste when you buy these packaged FROSTED fruits and vegetables. There is little difference in the cooking process. Simply follow the directions on the wrapper. The best hotels and restaurants now serve Frosted vegetables because they are so much better. Hospitals serve them to tempt invalid appetites.

Now available are the following varieties:

Following Brother Hitler

JAPAN NO LONGER CONSIDERS HERself bound by the nine-power treaty of 1922, by which she, Canada, the United States, Great Britain, and other nations pledged respect for China's independence and territorial integrity. This announcement from a Japanese Foreign Office spokesman will not be considered at this stage as world-shattering news. And when he tells us he is not quite sure whether the Tokio government will merely denounce it, or withdraw, we do not feel the least inclined to become unduly excited. The military oligarchy of Japan is pursuing in China—with very greatly renewed vigor since the "Peace of Munich"—the "immutable policy" which means Nippon's ultimate political and economic dominance of the Orient.

What recent developments mean to the government of Great Britain, how the Chamberlain ministry views the gradual dilution of British influence and prestige in China, we shall perhaps not be permitted to know until the full effects of Anglo-French policy in Central Europe have manifested themselves. It is none the less evident, of course, that the devotional exercises of the "axis philosophy" will quicken in tempo while the government at Westminster remains content to bask in the reflected glory of the Czechoslovakian "deal." It was presumably considered fitting today to refer in the prorogation speech of His Majesty—read by proxy in the House of Lords—in laudatory terms to the "dignity" with which Czechoslovakia accepted her fate, likewise to the "valuable support" given Prime Minister Chamberlain by Premier Mussolini.

While the Throne speech in London expressed the hope that "a new era may have been opened for Europe"—we are intrigued by the words "hope" and "may"—as a result of the settlement of the September crisis, we note that the British and American Chambers of Commerce in Shanghai have been [illegible] Japanese efforts to monopolize Chinese trade. The British Chamber is urging London to "attempt to preserve the British commercial stake in China," and in a strongly-worded communication that body charges Prime Minister Chamberlain's "complacency" in Far Eastern matters as being "entirely unjustified by the facts," demanding at the same time a stronger British policy "in which there should be more action." This is the voice of the white man on the spot.

Fortunately for Great Britain, and the rest of the Empire, for that matter, the time would appear far distant before it will be possible for any British Government to applaud China for the "dignity" with which she accepted Japanese conquest. She is fighting for her national existence against odds strengthened by the very "complacency" of which the British Chamber of Commerce at Shanghai speaks, odds likewise made heavier by the psychological effect of two European democracies retreating before the domineering blandishments of Japan's "brothers-in-axis." The question persists: What sort of "appeasement" is to be tried with a country which on many occasions has devoutly declared it had no further territorial ambitions in Asia?

Flier and Statesman

WHAT COLONEL CHARLES A. LINDbergh does in Europe or elsewhere, of course, is Colonel Lindbergh's business. What he said about Soviet Russia's air fighting machinery—where he said it, and what his opinion was intended to convey—suggests that he would be well advised not to mix his own particular highly-technical knowledge with diplomatic intrigue.

It will be recalled that the gallant aviator described the Russian Air Force as vastly inferior to that of Germany; that it could render very little practical assistance to any nation in battle conflict with Germany, and that, generally speaking, the Nazi air fighters and their equipment were equal to anything and superior to most. It was reported, incidentally, that Colonel Lindbergh had been down to Mr. Lloyd George's farm estate at Churt, Surrey, and interested considerably the war-time Prime Minister in his experiences in Russia. He has since been decorated by Field-Marshal Hermann Goering — "in the Fuehrer's name"—with the Order of the German Eagle with Star, the second highest decoration within the gift of the Nazi state.

In the meantime, however, more has been heard of the Lindbergh-Lloyd George chat at Churt, which suggests it was not the howling success it was first made out to be. True, the veteran statesman thought the aviator "quite a charming fellow," but there success seemed to end. It is reliably reported that after having listened to Lindbergh's "analysis" of the air strengths of the various countries—and, of course, Russia especially—the former Prime Minister quietly asked the Colonel if he had discussed the matter with Marshal Voroshilov, the Soviet Defence Commissar. To this quite innocent question the aviator-scientist replied: "No. Voroshilov? Who is Voroshilov, anyway?"

There remains the persistent suggestion that as soon as a reasonably convenient, but not long, interval had elapsed, Mr. Lloyd George asked to be excused!

Education Eating Up Life

STEPHEN LEACOCK, PROFESSOR emeritus of McGill University, writes:

"The plain people have noticed that education is getting longer and longer. Children at school cut up paper dolls . . . are still in high school till 18, learning civics and social statistics—studies for old men. They enter college about 19 or 20, take prerequisites and post-requisites in various faculties for nearly 10 years, then become demonstrators, researchers or cling to a graduate scholarship like a man on a raft.

"At 30 they are just beginning, 10 years too late. They can't marry till it's 10 years too late; they have children 10 years too late, and die 10 years too early. They know nothing of the early life of the man who worked in sawmills, practiced medicine at the age of 20 and married six months later, with no other property than a stethoscope and a horse and buggy; or of the young lawyer who married in debt and lived happily in it ever after. People do not see enough of their grandchildren—the sweetest prospect in the world. Life has too little evening. It has all run in arrears and never catches up."

The picture is not greatly overdrawn. Men barely through education at 30 and "too old at 40, or at most, 50." Doctors come from medical schools as from cloisters, where they have had almost no contact with the world. Dr. Raymond Pearl, biostatistician of Johns Hopkins, recently expressed amazement at the ignorance of the brightest medical students. He insisted on a course of nonmedical reading for all who worked with him. So with those trained for other callings, fitted, perhaps, for a groove, but hardly for life. The challenge cannot be missed, especially the biological challenge. If half one's life is to be spent in school, chiefly preparing for an attempt to catch up with the other half, what is that life worth with its best years gone?

Awarding the Laurels

"THE UNEXPECTED EARLY VICTORY at Hankow," states Japan's War Minister Itagaki, "should be attributed to the august virtues of his Imperial Majesty Hirohito and at the same time to the brave efforts of the Japanese forces which participated."

Nice of him to include the "Japanese forces which participated."

South Africa Closes Doors

PROBLEMS OF OVERPRODUCTION and unemployment are gradually becoming a decisive factor in South Africa's immigration policy, and during the last few months all foreign immigration to the Union has shown a progressive decline. Reports indicate it is now virtually impossible for people connected with the building and furniture trades, with tearooms and cafes, and with all trading occupations, to get permission to assume permanent residence in South Africa, unless they are British subjects. Foreigners are being strictly kept out of the country, and unless intending residents are experts in their particular lines, their chances of obtaining permanent residence certificates are said to be small.

Until a few months ago, persons connected with the farming industry had little or no trouble entering the Union, but a leading farmers' association now has succeeded in closing this gap. On the ground the country was already over-producing practically every agricultural commodity, it made representations to the government against the admittance of more farmers. As a result, foreign farmers are finding it impossible to immigrate to the Union.

Immigration policy in South Africa, as in this part of the world, is being decided to an ever-increasing extent by labor departments' recommendations based on the economic state of industry and commerce.

An actress boasts of evening slippers she can tie in knots. Those are knot evening slippers.

In her drive for self-sufficiency, Germany makes motor fuel from green leaves. The only trouble with this gasoline is that it costs $1,000 a quart to produce.

The more abundant life in Italy: Mussolini in his latest speech says "it is necessary for Italians to sleep with our heads on our knapsacks as we did in the trenches."

An up-island mill superintendent was fined $200 the other day by Chief Justice Morrison for taking money from workers who had to pay in order to hold their jobs. Hon. George S. Pearson as Minister of Labor has done well in following this up with the inauguration of a drive against job buying. It is a mean form of grafting on men anxious to work and has become too prevalent in these days of job scarcity.

ROYAL VISIT NO JUNKET

From Ottawa Citizen

As might be expected, the most excited twittering concerning next year's royal visit is heard in the direction of Toronto. That town is all adither, and even hot and bothered, about the prospect of impressing upon the King and Queen its profound loyalty and its capacity to give it a good time.

To make sure the arrangers of Their Majesties' itinerary are aware of Toronto's importance in the scheme, it was proposed to that city's board of control that Mayor Day should write immediately to Lord Tweedsmuir stressing Toronto's claim to a prominent place in the royal plans, "so that a lengthy visit to the city would definitely form part of Their Majesties' Canadian tour."

There is something pathetic in all this unseemly chatter about a serious event in Canadian history. Toronto's notion that it is entitled to a considerable portion of Their Majesties' three-weeks' stay in Canada is schoolboyish and distressing.

DEMOCRACY AT WORK

A DAY LIKE THURSDAY in the House may bore you a little at times, but it renews your faith in that vague, many-sided thing we call democracy. For when you listen to the back-benchers from the distant places, from the frontiers and the soil of British Columbia, and see the essential decency of these men, you think that, perhaps after all, the electors, in their strange, blundering fashion, generally get the kind of representatives they deserve. Or better.

It was a day devoted entirely to a kind of survey of the rich, varied life of British Columbia beyond the pavements. No partisanship clouded it, no anger as on the previous day, no interruptions.

In fact, Mr. Speaker Whittaker made sure, before the proceedings opened, that the House should mend its manners. A little irked by the constant back-chat of Wednesday, Mr. Speaker had come armed with a lengthy written ruling, replete with quotations from the rules, and citing a decision of the year 1693, to prove to hon. members they had no right to interrupt one another, hurl wisecracks across the House or to enjoy themselves in any of the good old ways.

The House applauded the Speaker's ruling, but some eminent treasury benchers smiled, the Premier among them, as if they felt that, at the proper moment, when they thought up a neat bit of repartee, the rules might be relaxed just a trifle. But for the rest of the day there was absolute silence.

Mr. Kenney, a Liberal, has developed remarkably since he came here five years ago from his store up north. He can be a wispish little man, with a sharp tongue, but yesterday he was talking on things non-political, and he is then at his best.

AN OLD FRIEND BOBS UP

HE COMES TO THE HOUSE always showing signs of study and thought—a luxury which the country members have time to enjoy, and which is often difficult for harassed cabinet ministers. He talked of the needs of the north, or roads and of land settlement and finally, with considerable boldness, he proclaimed himself unreservedly in favor of the 1933 policy of Work and Wages.

Mention of this old slogan must have made everyone a little melancholy, for we realized suddenly that it is five full years this month since the government took office, five years since the frenzied election of 1933, and it seems almost yesterday.

If Mr. Kenney had re-dedicated himself to Work and Wages a year or two ago, he would have met derision from the government's ranks. Yesterday he received respectful silence because the recent Colombo conversion, and the new way some leaders, federal and provincial, have made it very plain that they are advocating Work and Wages just as emphatically as Mr. Pattullo. Sometimes Mr. Pattullo must enjoy a quiet smile in private.

Capt. Bull, of South Okanagan, who followed Mr. Kenney, is a unique personality in this place; doesn't fit into any mold and doesn't conform to any party platform. A Liberal in name, he did not hesitate to attack the federal government, nor to quote Dr. Manion and Mr. Herridge, along with Mr. McGeer, in warm approval.

There is a kind of complete manly innocence about this man which is really refreshing; a total inability to see, hear, or smell evil, and a burning sense of the honor and the obligation of a legislator in a democratic country. They don't come any better than this one-armed veteran of the war, and everybody in the House knows it.

UNPOPULAR THEORY

IT IS PART OF HIS innocence and his courage that he should stand up in this House, against his party and the opposition and demand that we stop criticizing and harassing the Japanese in British Columbia, because we are not ready to fight Japan. It was a view which few members were willing to accept, but it came with such obvious conviction that no one challenged it.

Capt. Bull is one of those country gentlemen who are the ornament of the Okanagan Valley, but he is almost passionate in his belief that the economic system must be changed; not by socialism, not by fascism, but democratically, through the mechanism of the monetary system, possibly through a national system of Social Credit.

It might have been Mr. McGeer talking, but the wild accents, the flashing eye, the bitterness and the fury were lacking. In their place was a man talking so quietly you could hardly hear him, but with a flame of idealism which was nice to behold, even if it cannot alight the damp material of party politics.

WE NEED MORE HOGS

ANOTHER SOLDIER IS MR. EYRES, the Conservative gentleman from Chilliwack, and another young man who takes his job seriously. He attempts nothing beyond his depth, is content to talk in simple, precise fashion, about farms and farmers and roads and the Sumas dikes.

His mass of figures showed that he had studied farm problems deeply up in Chilliwack and he seems to think that if British Columbia would grow its own products, instead of importing them, the farmer would prosper.

In fact, one of the fundamental solutions offered to the House all through this debate has been the production of more hogs. It is generally agreed that some hundreds of thousands of hogs stand between us and a more abundant life.

Mr. Connelly, of Omineca, wound up the day—another modest, practical man of business, who speaks humbly, without attempt to arouse or excite, and knows what he is talking about. His quiet manner offers a somewhat vivid contrast to the lusty oratory, the fevered blast we used to get from Omineca long ago in an epoch, alas, utterly dead.

BEST OF ALL HOBBIES

Everybody should adopt a hobby. One day I said to Lena, the cook: "Have you got a hobby?"

"Yah, sure," she grinned.

"Nice one, I hope."

"Ya, a nice one," said Lena. "He's a goot hobby, except vunce in a time he comes home a leetle plestered."

Lest We Forget

IN THE MIDST of the current wave of rampant pacifism the message being brought before the public on Remembrance Day takes on additional solemnity. While it reminds us afresh that thousands of our dead comrades' dependents still have a claim for our aid, it warns us, from a million graves, that liberty won by sacrifice, by sacrifice alone can be preserved. The organizers of "Poppy Day" hope that this year's sale of the little scarlet emblem will surpass all previous records—to bear witness that as ever before the Empire still keeps faith with its glorious dead. Although it is 20 years since, the world is still paying the price—in wounds, in physical disability, in poverty and loss of earning capacity. The worry of final repatriation is still with us and many of our veterans suffer from results of their service days.

The local Remembrance Day committee looks to Victoria again to support the Poppy Day campaign. The support of all, financial and moral, will be appreciated. Both the workshops, making the poppies, and the distribution depot invite the public to visit them and see the work that is being done. The office, 719 Broughton Street, telephone E 4932, will arange the sale or delivery of wreaths or supply such information as may be needed.

NOT TAUGHT AT VARSITY

From St. Thomas Times-Journal

Another course for prospective brides to take might be "domestic silence."

JUVENILE CRIME

To the Editor:—There is much talk nowadays regarding the prevalence of crime in Victoria. Prominent among the cases reported to the police are a number of "hold ups" and burglaries committed, apparently by juveniles. When the latter cases are brought before our genial magistrate for punishment, I am afraid the proper method is seldom applied in order to bring home to youthful minds the enormity of their misdeeds. How about the application of the birch? I know that I shall be charged by some hysterical [illegible] with being wickedly cruel, but I am a believer in the good old maxim, "Spare the rod and spoil the child," only on rare occasions when no other means seem adequate. At all events, a mild slap on the wrist with the admonition to "go home and be a good boy in future" will not tend to reduce the high increase in juvenile crime in this city. I would like to hear the opinion of others on this matter.

Women Not Keeping Men Out of Jobs

U.S. Report Dispels Myth With Cold Statistics

NEW YORK (AP) — Do not blame unemployment on the women holding down jobs in industry, warns the United States Industrial Conference Board, a research organization dominated by males.

Citing cold statistics, the board, supported by industries and large corporations, declared "the percentage of male workers in the total population has been approximately the same since 1870," that "the increase in the number of women workers has not been at the cost of men," and furthermore that, "particularly in the years up to 1930, it would have been impossible to maintain the level of industrial production without female employees."

MAGISTRATE'S SON LONDON ART CRITIC

George Fernau Hall, son of Magistrate H. C. Hall of this city, is making a name for himself in London, England, as an art critic. In the September issue of the Dancing Times, a highly-regarded review of "dancing in its many phases" published in London, he has written on the performances this summer of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo at Drury Lane Theatre. His criticisms of Massine's work reveals a knowledge of ancient and contemporary ballet that spells intelligent interest and enthusiasm for his subject.

"Massine's New Ballets," the name of Mr. Hall's article, expresses disappointment in the two new ballets given their premiere this year in London, "The Seventh Symphony" and "Rodeo." These, he feels, are both lacking in originality and uninspired. "Massine," he says of the genius behind the Monte Carlo Ballet and Russian Ballet, "has become worried whether his ideas were really getting across to the audience, so to make sure he channeled his ideas in his new creations through the collective unity of religion. Herbert Reed in Art and Society has shown how the history of art since the Renaissance is mainly a history of the attempts of the artist to find a substitute for religion as a connecting link between the artist and the public. No artist, however, can evade his problems by trying to turn the clock back in this way—he must go constantly forward and find new ways of expressing himself."

Mr. Hall goes on to say that a man of Massine's stature, the man who created the Barman in "Union Pacific" and the incomparable farucca in "Le Tricorne," is worthy of greater things. "In his 'Gaiete Parisienne' (newly created as successor to the old favorite 'Le Beau Danube') he shows himself the great artist he is. The dance of the soldiers is gloriously impudent and has a quality which sets the whole atmosphere of the ballet. The fight is one of the finest scenes Massine has ever arranged."

Ontario Baby Is Declared Genius

LONDON (CP) — Eighteen-month-old Lillian May Bobson of Toronto, in the opinion of Dr. Alan Brown, Toronto child specialist, "is definitely in the genius class."

Lillian, daughter of Ukranian parents, gave an example of her skill last night by spelling out each letter of a front-page newspaper headline with clearness.

The child, her mother said, walked at 10 months and shortly after pointed at various objects and asked, in Ukranian, "What's that?"

Her first interest in the English alphabet came when she asked about the letters on a set of building blocks. Her mother named the letters and was surprised a few days later to hear Lillian repeating them with perfect accuracy.

Within a month the baby knew the English alphabet.

Pastor and Wife 'At Home' to Many Today

Many members of the congregation and friends called at the home of Rev. Hugh McLeod and Mrs. McLeod, Belmont Avenue, this afternoon when the pastor of the First United Church and his wife held their first reception since coming to Victoria. They will be "at home" again this evening from 8 till 10.

Autumn flowers, chrysanthemums predominating, were used in decoration of the reception rooms, with rose tones in the drawing-room and deeper tones in the hall. Assisting Mrs. McLeod in receiving this afternoon were: Mrs. M. Christie and Mrs. R. W. Mayhew.

Presiding in turn at the prettily-decorated tea table, with its centrepiece of orange-berried cotoneaster in a blue pottery bowl, flanked by matching tapers in blue candlesticks, will be Mrs. G. F. Simpson, Mrs. Alex McKeachie, Mrs. A. S. Denny, Mrs. S. J. Drake, Mrs. J. A. Heritage, Mrs. John Goldie, Mrs. J. O. Perry, Mrs. W. B. Crowther, Mrs. J. W. Gibson and Mrs. J. S. Conibeare. Assisting in serving were: Mrs. E. S. Farr, Mrs. Walter Fletcher, Mrs. Donald McKinnon, Mrs. John Gough, Mrs. R. H. Higgins, Mrs. J. McInnes, Mrs. C. H. Spicer, Mrs. James Walker, Mrs. W. B. Stewart, Mrs. H. W. Henderson, and Mrs. W. R. Menzies. In charge of the register were: Mrs. N. Craig, Mrs. J. G. MacFarlane, Mrs. W. C. Hudson and Mrs. J. H. Schroeder.

McGregor, Miss Flo Patterson, Mrs. R. B. Prendergast, Mrs. Ralph Mathews, Mrs. John F. Walker, Miss Edith Howell, Miss Dorthea Hay, Mrs. G. H. Stevens, Mrs. R. Morrison and Mrs. G. Gordon.

To Mark Birthday Of Province

Preparations are well in hand for the birthday of the Province of British Columbia tea to be held on Saturday, November 19, at Empress Hotel under the auspices of the Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter. Mrs. H. Goodfellow, general convenor, stated that a special birthday cake will be made in celebration of this annual event.

The convener of the program, Mrs. Bertha Parsons, at the chapter meeting yesterday outlined the special program. Mrs. A. S. Christie, the regent, with her officers, will be the reception committee to welcome the visitors.

Two new members, Mrs. G. R. Thomson and Mrs. W. Dunsmore were welcomed. Calendars were distributed and found ready purchasers.

Members stood in silent sympathy with Mrs. A. M. Pillar, the standard bearer of the chapter, in her recent bereavement.

The chapter voted the requested amount towards the municipal wreath for poppy day. Mrs. R. B. McMicking will write the inscription on the weath to be presented by the Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter to be placed on the cenotaph by Mrs. T. B. Monk. The regent voiced the regret of the chapter that Mrs. Colin Cummins is feeling indisposed and unable to attend.

Miss Lee gave the municipal report. It was decided to hold a book shower for the Mundal and Attache Schools at the next meeting of the chapter on December 1. A donation of cash was given to the Sir James Douglas and Burnside Schools to help with their libraries. Mrs. G. W. Pottinger, educational secretary, will present these gifts on behalf of the chapter.

The enjoyable tea which the member served at the close of the meeting was arranged by the members who have recently joined the chapter.

Move to Annul Child Marriage

SOUDERTON, Pa. (AP) — The father of buxom, blue-eyed Frances Erb, 13-year-old high school freshman, retained a lawyer today to seek annulment of her marriage to Robert Souder, 21-year-old relief worker with whom she eloped to Elkton, Md.

Ignoring protests of rosy-checked Frances that she loves her six-foot three-inch tall husband and intends to stick with him, the father, Raymond, a brickyard laborer, said he would ask that the marriage be set aside because of his daughter's age.

Lodoners are of two opinions over the recent appointment by King George VI of his younger brother, the Duke of Kent, to be Governor General of Australia. The Duke, pictured above with the Duchess as they recently arrived in London from Scotland, is seen by some as a binder of Empire ties. But Mayfair society is mourning the pending departure of the Duke and Duchess, who have given a gay leadership to the social round.

Prefers Stage to Social Life in Ottawa

High Commissioner's Daughter In New York Play

NEW YORK (CP) —In Ottawa, Naomi Campbell, as a daughter of Sir Gerald Campbell, British High Commissioner, could be a graceful addition to the whirl of dinners and dances which make up the Dominion capital's social life.

Instead, she would rather live in a hotel in the Broadway district and go from one theatrical agent's office to another each day because she wants to be an actress more than anything else is the world.

"I've wanted to be an actress ever since I was 14," Miss Campbell said yesterday. "When father took me to see 'Iolanthe,' in San Francisco the minute I saw the leading lady standing in the rushes with her golden hair steaming about her, I wanted to go on the stage."

Miss Campbell has performed successfully in radio plays on national networks in United States and England. She also has served in a couple of Broadway productions, her best break being a walk-on part in "Love on the Dole," which ran four months. She was playing the lead last night in a Little Theatre production of "Seaweed," a comedy drama by Essex Dane.

Old Scottish Dance To Be Revived

When on Wednesday, November 30, with pipes skirling and all the traditional color and pageantry of the occasion, the annual St. Andrew's ball is held at the Empress Hotel, "The Caledonians" will be danced for the first time publicly in Victoria.

A Scotch quadrille, picturesque and artistic, it is danced to special music like the English lancers, and at one time held as prominent a place in Scotland's ball program as that dance did at English balls. But, together with the eightsome reel, it is being practised vigorously by Victoria's numerous St. Andrew's ball enthusiasts under the capable direction of Mrs. Colin H. Rutherford, 1227 Beach Drive, convenor of the ball. Like the eightsome, it requires four couples. And Mrs. Rutherford asks that all those who have made up their eight for the ball get in touch with her as soon as possible so that she may reserve space for them on the floor.

The eightsome, besides being one of the most graceful of dances, has an interesting history. Back in the early seventies, the Earl of Dunmore of those times and his friends evolved this dance from their childhood's recollections of the "Round Reels," a still earlier dance. They danced the eightsome as it will be danced at the Empress first at the Atholl gathering ball.

Later that season it was done at the Portree ball and after that at Perth. Like the Lambeth Walk it "caught on," and how it caught on! Every clan in all parts of Scotland danced it. Kilts of every Scottish tartan swung to its measure. It has become part of the traditional glory of every St. Andrew's ball all over the world. There are, it is true, examples of round country dances to be found in old books, but none with quite the same figures as evolved by the late Earl of Dunmore and his friends in the early seventies.

Prince Mike Finds Going Harder For 'Royalty'

NEW YORK — After holding court in Hollywood for a year, Prince Michael "Romanoff" has come back to Manhattan. And one of the first things that happened to him was to be barred from the Stork Club. Now this is no way to treat the Russian nobility and when we put it that way to the Stork's headwaiter, that worthy just said: "Prince of no Prince Mike, don't get in here."

So the Prince is sulking in Jack & Charlie's "21" and muttering invective against the Stork. He is at a loss to understand it. After all, the Prince was a social cog in the Hollywood whirligig and no one questioned his kinship to the late Czar. What's more, no one dared to address him as Harry Gerguson, which is the name Prince Mike was born with. As for the Stork, says the Prince, why, that's just a hangout for social climbers and pretenders of no importance.

In Hollywood, where we last ran into the bogus nobleman, the Prince was in great demand at parties, luncheons, midnight soirees and at the race track. He was the special pet of Darryl Zanuck who gets a kick out of hob-nobbing with royalty. Mr. Zanuck was so complimented by Prince Mike's companionship, as a matter of fact, that he kept him on the payroll. True, there wasn't much work around the shop and once they had to cancel the Prince out of a picture in which he was supposed to portray himself because the Prince didn't happen to photograph like Prince Mike Romanoff. But that was all right with Mr. Zanuck.

And now back in New York, his virtual St. Petersburg, the Prince is chagrined by a snub from a headwaiter. Who do these commoners think they are?

Nurses May Train For Interne Work

TORONTO (CP)—Dr. G. Harvey Agnew, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Hospital Council, said the only solution to the "pressing problem" of the shortage of internes in Canada was the training of nurses to perform some tasks now assigned to internes.

"The arrangement is not an ideal one, but it is that or nothing for many of our hospitals," Dr. Agnew told the Ontario Hospital Association.

Women 'Terriers' Organized in Britain

From MATHILDE
(Our Own Correspondent

LONDON—The Auxiliary Territorial Service, organized for women, is now preparing its peace-time program.

Launched at the time of the crisis, but planned long before, the service is working on "full territorial priniciples" and is organizing week-end training voluntary service, and modest financial allowances, similar to those allowed for "Terriers.'

The new service is very popular with women here. There have been thousands of applicants, so many that volunteers have had to be asked to wait while forms are being dealt with.

As soon as its formation was announced women flocked to join.

"I think that women now days are determined to do all they can to help their country—because they saw what the last war," Lady Violet Astor, chief controller in the County of London, told me. "They feel, now more than ever, that they cannot bear to sit at home twiddling their thumbs while their men fight."

NOTED LEADERS

The County of London is the area operating the largest number of units. Next to it comes the City of London the Chief Commandant of which is Lady Trenchard. Her assistant is Mrs. Liardet, wife of General Liardet, Territorial Commander of the London Division.

An instruction school for the training of officers from all parts of the country has been established in Chelsea and its first instruction will be under the discourse has begun this week. The rection of Dame Helen Gwynn-Vaughan.

Three motor driver companies formed in the County of London for service with the army are complete both in officers and members. Similar companies for service with the R.A.F. units are to be formed soon, Lady Astor told me.

The companies affiliated to Territorial units will be formed when officers are selected and posted.

Dominoes Seek Willows Court

Offer Agricultural Association $100 a Month For Industrial Building

Conversion of the Industrial Building into a basketball court and box for lacrosse is sought from the B.C. Agricultural Association by the Dominoes basketball team.

At a meeting of the directors of the Agricultural Association held last night a letter from J. V. Johnson, on behalf of the Dominoes, said they would be prepared to pay $100 a month for the building if changes could be made.

The building is now occupied by Central Films. The Dominoes made the offer because of a report the moving picture industry might close.

Central Films pays $100 a month for the studio which was renovated about 18 months ago and in which 11 movies have been made. Efforts are being made to have the quota laws amended in order that picture production may continue here and the city will not lose a valuable industry.

The directors tabled the Dominoes' letter pending word from Central Films.

Frozen Peas New Delicacy

Have Same Color and Flavor as Fresh Ones and Are Now on Market Here

Frozen vegetables is the latest food delicacy to reach the tables of Victorians.

Science and new equipment in the United States not long ago made it possible to use summer vegetables, free of cans and jars, in the middle of winter, and, what was more remarkable, few persons eating them could not tell the difference. It was always possible to compare fresh fruit and vegetables and preserved ones, but the new process of freezing vegetables makes this comparison almost impossible. In color and flavor they are identical.

In the United States the industry of vegetable freezing has become a large one, and the 1938 pack reached 85,000,000 pounds. The processes used in that country have been introduced in many parts of Canada. The first to use it here is the B. Wilson Company Limited, pioneer wholesale firm, now headed by B. W. Wilson, grandson of William Wilson, who came to Victoria in the fifties and founded a family that has given business and professional leadership to Victoria for many years.

SPECIALLY-GROWN PEAS

Only specially-grown green peas are suitable for freezing, so the Wilson company imported seed of this type and arranged with A. W. Aylard to have it grown on his Sidney farm. The seed is planted, like wheat or oats, with a drill, and being of the Alderman variety, it is not staked, but allowed to grow and fall at will.

The Wilson company imported a machine called a viner, which weighs four and a half tons, and installed it on the Aylard farm. From the viner the peas are put in the boxes with crushed ice packed around them. From the farm they are taken quickly to the Wilson cold storage plant on Herald Street, where they are cleansed, processed, washed and graded. They are put through a flotation process, so that the overripe peas float on the top, so [illegible] and other poor peas are removed and thrown away. [illegible] the very best are packed. They are blanched for a minute and a half at 190 degrees Fahrenheit, to bring out and fast the color. They are then frozen at 5 degress below zero with an artificial gale raging.

The yield from this pea seed is between 1,500 and 2,000 pounds to the acre. This year, because of the unusually dry weather, the yield was 1,500 pounds. Fourteen acres were planted and the total yield was nine tons.

So far only four vegetables are suitable for this type of freezing—garden peas, beans, asparagus and corn on the cob.

Beans for freezing were grown last year by J. H. Barker at his farm at Pike Lake; corn on the Aylard farm and the asparagus by G. G. Share at Cowichan Bay.

Plans are being made now to increase production next year, and farmers are being contacted by the Wilson Company to enter this new business.

In the past only strawberries have been frozen. This season cherries, raspberries and loganberries have been frozen and have proved popular.

Wants Truck Drivers Curbed

Courtesy on Highway Demanded By Omineca Member

A demand for drivers of big trucks on the Cariboo Highway to be more courteous to other motorists was made in the Legislature yesterday by Mark M. Connelly, Liberal, Omineca.

He said they went speeding along at 50 and 60 miles an hour, crowded other cars to the side of the road and skidded dirt on to them.

"I know they have schedules to keep and competition to meet, but they should show common courtesy to other drivers and slacken up a bit," he said.

Mr. Connelly opposed a suggestion to stop Indians taking spawning salmon from the Fraser River, claiming the Indians were having a hard enough time now to store sufficient food for winter.

He expressed the hope health insurance could be put into effect in a very short time and made an appeal for the government to continue construction of the Manson Creek Road on to the Peace River.

The Omineca member described how Lord Tweedsmuir's visit to the park bearing his name and road construction in the area had resulted in a five-fold increase in travel there this year.

Says Province Needs Britons

Skeena Member Urges Action on Immigration Scheme

British Columbia needs immigrants from the United Kingdom to keep its population British and preserve the country for the Empire, Edward T. Kenney, Liberal, Skeena, told the Legislature yesterday in a forceful appeal for Sir Henry Page Croft's scheme to bring 10,000 settlers to the interior of the province.

"We require, and can accommodate large numbers if they be able to finance themselves and develop our natural resources and agricultural lands," he declared.

"Without sufficient population sharing our views about the commonwealth, and without reinforcements of the same kind of people as ourselves, we are in a precarious position when you consider the modern practice of invasions just for conquest."

New immigrants would not necessarily increase the labor problem, Mr. Kenney said, because new people in productive work meant new markets and actually additional employment.

Mr. Kenney opposed changes in the Mineral Act which are being discussed, urged higher salaries for rural school teachers, and advocated early completion of a northern transprovincial highway linking Prince Rupert with the interior.

He said increases from 5 to 12 points in British Columbia bonds quotations in the last five years amply refuted the Conservative suggestion that people had lost confidence in the present government.

Mr. Kenney concluded with a demand for the country to get down to a "work and wages" policy.

"I was never ashamed of this slogan and I'm sorry we haven't made the progress we might have done toward it. Had the Dominion Government accepted the plan as we advocated it in 1933, and as I think they'll have to in the long run, we'd never have had the misery, want and despair we have had.

"We should force the federal government to recognize its responsibility in this and institute policies that will care for all unemployment."

With the coming of spring, the camel's hair forms into matted tufts, and falls to the ground as the growth of new hair comes in.

Gentlemen—Why don't you write an Exide ad like this?

". . . Tell them about batteries from the standpoint of the man who sells them. Take ourselves. We've handled Exides for 15 years. We always figured that we had our future to think of and could not risk losing customers by selling a battery that might not stand up. Exide is the choice of experienced, successful dealers—men who know that the basis of success is good service and good merchandise. Make motorists understand this. Make them realize that the reasons which cause the better class of service station to sell Exides are the same reasons they should buy Exide."

The makers of Exide Batteries appreciate the enthusiasm and loyalty of a dealer who writes a letter like this. He is right. There is no surer indication of the automotive dealer's interest in your welfare than the brand of battery he handles . . . for unlike other kinds of merchandise, the value of a battery is something you cannot see. And the dealer who does not take advantage of that fact, but offers you a battery of unquestionable merit, justifies your confidence.

That is why you can regard the Exide dealer sign as the symbol of honest service . . . a safe guide to follow in buying automotive merchandise and service generally.

Urges Planes Bomb Fires

Training for Men and Protection for Forests, Says Member

The use of fighting planes of Canada's defence force to battle forest fires by dropping chemical bombs on the flames was visualized in the Legislature yesterday by L. H. Eyres, Conservative, Chilliwack, speaking in the debate.

Planes used in this way could stop fires at their outset, he said, and would also give the pilots excellent training in bombing practice.

"I feel I can make this suggestion because I served overseas with a bombing squadron of the R.A.F.," Mr. Eyres said.

The Chilliwack member warned the government of the danger of the Vedder River overflowing the dikes on to the Sumas reclamation area, suggesting a dam at Chilliwack Lake to regulate the flow of the river.

He urged firm action under the marketing laws to fix returns to producers and the price to consumers and declared the large agricultural imports of the province pointed the way to an increased market for farm production.

He advocated removal of the toll on the Cariboo Highway and an expenditure of $6,000,000 a year on highway development that, he thought, would be repaid two-fold in extra tourist business.

Y.P. Conference

Delegates from the Young People's Societies of 15 United Churches of Canada, will gather tomorrow afternoon at the Metropolitan United Church when the Lower Island Executive Congress will be officially opened.

Registration will begin at 3.30 with Evelyn Wright, Victoria West, in charge.

At 4.15 the commissions will meet for their final sesions, committee chairmen appointed include: Devotional and worship, Jim McCague, president Centennial Y.P.S.; recreational and fellowship, Molly Kennedy, president Oak Bay community service; William Allan, Wilkinson Y.P.S. and literary and drama festival; Mun Hope, president Y.P.U.C. council.

The congress banquet is to take place at 6.30, when musical appreciation will be in charge of Cecil Davies, James Bay Society; Josephine Wong, Chinese United, and Stephen L. Bailey, Oak Bay Y.P.S.

Following the commission reports, the congress will adjourn at about 8.45. The recreational committee consists of Jim McCague, L. Cannon, Florence Cummins, Evelyn Wright, Roy Hundleby, Alvaretta McNutt and Kay Hodgson.

Additional subcommittees will be announced later.

The Sunday rally will start at 3 in the afternoon. Rev. Hugh McLeod of First United Church will give the closing address and Edna Burgess will sing a solo.

Pictures will be taken outside the church after the close of the executive officers' congress.

The Thomas Crosby Challenge shield won last season by the Belmont Society, will again be presented for competition.

Change Name of Jubilee Hospital

The official name of the Jubilee Hospital will be changed to "Provincial Jubilee Hospital" by a bill petitioned for in the Legislature yesterday by W. T. Straith, Liberal, Victoria. The word "Royal" will be dropped from the title.

The bill also creates an endowment fund from ordinary donations and bequests to the hospital, the income from which will be used for additions and alterations to buildings and equipment.

It also provides for a special endowment from donations or bequests for specific purposes, making it plain they be used for the purposes stated by the donor.

Temperamental Princess Returns to Husband

NEW YORK (AP)—After leaving Bob Gregory, her wrestler husband in Hollywood and traveling across the continent to sail for London, the former "Princess" of Sarawak decided at the last minute last night that she was going to return to him.

She claimed her mail one hour before Ss. Manhattan sailed and ran ashore shouting:

"I will never go anywhere again without Bob. I tried to but I'll never try it again."

She left Gregory recently with the explanation that she had failed to land movie work in Hollywood. London, she said, offered a better opportunity to a disinherited "princess" who wanted to make her own living.

Contemplate New U.B.C. Building

The provincial government has in mind the construction of a $300,000 bacteriology building at the University of British Columbia—which could eventually be used for a faculty of medicine, according to Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education.

Dr. Weir said he expected the new university unit would be the government's first major construction job when funds are available.

It would take in the present provincial laboratories on Hornby Street—now being renovated as a temporary measure to relieve overcrowding — provision for training in public health nursing, bacteriology, organic chemistry and possibly dietetics.

The proposed building, said the minister, will serve both the government and the university as it will solve problems for both of them.

No Action on Release Plea

Province Not Recommending Clemency For Tin-canners

The provincial government will not recommend release of 143 single unemployed jailed for tin-canning in Vancouver.

After a petition urging clemency for the men was presented to him here, Attorney-General Gordon Wismer said the matter was one for the Minister of Justice at Ottawa, beyond the provincial government's jurisdiction, and he did not propose to make any recommendations about it.

The petition, submitted by Adam Smith Johnston, Vancouver barrister, was from the men, claiming they could not be regarded as criminals and thought they should be released and allowed to go into forest camps with other single unemployed.

It is understood, however, the government is taking the position it gave fair warning after the last "tin-canning" campaign this procedure would not be tolerated again.

Arrangements have been made for a jail camp at Squamish where the convicted tin-canners will be housed. They will be under guard, but otherwise in much the same position as at other camps except they must serve out their terms.

Anti-Japanese Move Decried

Okanagan Member Warns Agitation Means War Eventually

The current agitation against the growth of the Japanese population in British Columbia and demands for exclusion were decried in the Legislature Thursday by Capt. C. R. Bull, Liberal, South Okanagan.

Such agitation, he said, was ill-advised and dangerous at a time when Japan was at war and the perspective of the average person was biased.

Declaring he had found the Japanese in the Okanagan to be gentlemen, good co-operators and their children well-bred, he said he could not forget that Japan was Britain's ally in the last war.

"When two nations are at war, neutral nations, no matter what the feelings of the individuals, cannot play favorites unless they are prepared to defend themselves, because sooner or later such a course means war," he said.

HEIGHT OF FOLLY

"It is the height of folly to go out of our way to antagonize a nation we could not defend ourselves against at the present time without assistance. I do not think this agitation would have got under way if Japan had been, say, 500 miles from our shores and we did not have the false idea that the actual distance between the two countries guaranteed us immunity."

All the great democracies today were adopting policies that would preserve peace, and for this reason he agreed with Prime Minister Mackenzie King's course of restraint and patience on the Japanese question.

Capt. Bull offered the House a plan for meeting the unemployment situation, proposing, first, that as a temporary measure provincial revenues be raised by increased taxation if necessary, to provide funds for a work and wages program that would care for all jobless. The size of the scheme would vary each year according to the condition of business.

In addition, he urged, the Dominion should finance a similar sort of works scheme by "non-political actuarially-controlled use of its national credit."

SOCIAL CREDIT

Capt. Bull insisted that economic reform was essential in Canada and he had leanings to Social Credit, which he described as "the most wonderful idea development by the brain of man to deal with an economic problem," but not possible as a provincial measure.

"I believe the federal government should take a chance and do something for the good of their immortal souls instead of acting for political expediency," he declared.

He touched also on the Empire trade agreements, telling how Premier Pattullo, Hon. K. C. MacDonald and he had done everything to impress the federal government with their importance to the British Columbia apple growers, but adding:

"In our representations we always kept in mind that the new British-United States agreement might lead to a political alliance to hold disturbing influences in check, and we realized we might have to make some small sacrifice. But I still sincerely hope that we will be able to retain our f.o.b. selling arrangement in Britain, which is the chief value of the agreements to us."

You know that's no excuse for not supporting the Community Chest. ***

Langford

A Hallowe'en party was held Monday evening for school children of the district by the Langford Women's Institute in the Institute Hall. After supper, games were enjoyed and Douglas Flintoff showed moving pictures.

Langford subdivision of the Catholic Women's League met at "Festubert," home of Mr. and Mrs. George MacDonald, Island Highway, when Rev. Father Geukers, pastor of St. Richard's Church, who is shortly leaving for Holland, was presented with a traveling bag by the parishioners.

No Boarding Houses In Exclusive Area

TORONTO (CP) — Angry property owners of Rosedale, residential section since Toronto was just muddy York, filled the council room at City Hall yesterday and won from the property committee a promise no boarding houses will be operated in their district.

The committee said an old by-law prohibiting boarding houses in the area would be upheld, after hearing complaints boarding houses have been licensed there in recent years. A group of boarding house operators, who argued vainly against the pleas of realtors and householders, received no assurance the city would drop about 25 prosecutions for infringements of the bylaw.

PREMIER CANDIDATE

ADELAIDE, Australia (CP Havas)—Premier R. L. Butler of South Australia today announced he would resign Saturday to become a candidate in the Wakefield by-election to fill the Commonwealth Parliament seat left vacant by the death of C. A. S. Hawker in an airplane accident.

In the human body the centre of gravity is slightly to the right.

Keen Activity Soccer Market

Many English Teams After New Players; $38,400 Offered for O'Donnell

LONDON (CP) — Activities of managers and scouts at the inter-league soccer match at Wolverhampton this week when England's representatives defeated Scotland, 3 to 1, foreshadow big doings in the English transfer market.

Many teams are searching for new material, particularly goal-scoring forwards, and it is predicted $150,000 may change hands in transfer fees in the next few weeks. Sunderland, Leeds United and Plymouth Argyle are paticularly anxious to strengthen their teams as the major stages of the English Cup competition approach.

Sunderland is negotiating with Blackpool for Frank O'Donnell, Scottish international centre forward, and this week offered £8,000 ($38,400) but the bait was not good enough. In the meantime William Agar, local amateur, has been signed.

Jack Rowe, a farmer, has caught the eye of Plymouth scouts. In district football he has scored 27 goals in eight matches and he is expected to make his debut in Argyle colors shortly.

DIZZY PACE

As the bargaining proceeds Derby County and Everton are setting a dizzy pace in the race for the championship. Derby went to the top last week when Everton had its colors lowered by Leicester City and now has 20 points, two more than Everton and five more than Bolton Wanderers and Liverpool, joint holders of third place.

While Rangers are keeping in step with Celtic at the top of the Scottish League, there is a stirring duel between two Ranger players for goal-scoring honors in the first division. Tied for weeks, A. Venters carried his total to 15 by performing the hat-trick against Raith Rovers a week ago. Hope has two more than W. [illegible] who netted the opening goal in the light blues' victory.

Comparatively easy games face the famous Glasgow clubs at the week-end. Rangers are away to Albion Rovers and the Celts are hosts to Ayr United.

By PETE SALLAWAY

AL HOSTAK appeared overtrained and was certainly not the Hostak I had seen in action in previous bouts." Those were the words of Billy Buxton, Victoria featherweight, who paid us a visit yesterday on his return from Seattle. Buxton appeared on the Hostak-Krieger card, dropping a six-round decision to Danny LaVerne, tough little scrapper from San Francisco.

Billy further informed me his next fight will be in Seattle on November 15. He hopes to appear on a double main event and is attempting to get a re-match with LaVerne. Buxton came out of his fight with a couple of discolored eyes and a swollen right hand. His left flipper stood up well and the right mitt will be O.K. again in a couple of days. It is just a bruise and nothing serious.

We asked Buxton why Hostak had been allowed to continue the fight with two busted hands. In his opinion, the Seattle boy demanded he go on. Billy told me both Hostak and Krieger had made an agreement that the referee would not stop the fight no matter how badly either boy got knocked around. "Hostak's hands were so badly smashed up they were hanging down at his sides most of the time in the late rounds," Buxton said.

Just how it feels for a hockey player to move up from the minors into the big time is told by Dutch Hiller, recruit forward of Lester Patrick's New York Rangers. Hiller will replace Bobby Kirk at left wing beside Phil Watson and Bryan Hextall.

Short of stature but solidly built, Hiller is the first member of the New Yorkers' Three-R System — New York Rovers of the eastern United States amateur league, Ramblers and Rangers—ever to make the jump from Rovers to Rangers without some professional experience in Philadelphia. Manager Lester Patrick of Rangers brought him up from Rovers late

AS PITTSBURGH BEAT FORDHAM—Breaking a three-year scoreless tie the University of Pittsburgh Panthers, reckoned one of the greatest team in United States football history, whipped the Fordham Rams 24 to 13 in their recent meeting. In the above picture Dannies, 29, Pitt centre, is seen crashing into Principe, Fordham fullback. The force of the tackle knocked the ball out of his hands and Daddio (62) gatheredl it in.

Bombers Play Bronks

Winnipeg and Calgary Squads Open Western Gridiron Final Tomorrow; Important Games in East

WINNIPEG — Winnipeg Blue Bombers entrained for Calgary today in the best physical condition they have known since early September.

Bombers, victors last Saturday over Regina Roughriders in a sudden-death Western Interprovincial Football Union [illegible] meet Carl Cromin's Calgary Bronks tomorrow in the first of a two-game, total-point series for the western championship. Second game will be played here November 12.

Winnipegs haven't been at full strength since they dropped a 7 to 0 decision to Regina last September 12. Tomorrow, however, they'll be close to top manpower. Quarterback Art Stevenson and halfback Wayne Sheley are expected back and inside Herb Perschel is ready. Only halfback Russ Rebholz, former University of Wisconsin star, may miss the game. He injured his side in the Regina game and it has not responded to treatment.

Stevenson is expected to start at quarterback and will replace Bill Boivin in the Bombers backfield. If Rebholz is unable to play, Boivin will replace him.

EASTERN GAMES

TORONTO—The ragtime band Alexander Ponton assembled as the Balmy Beach football club seven years ago has been developed through the seasons until, in 1938, Alexander says they're one of the smoothest in the land.

Beaches have shown only occasional flashes in winning two and losing two of their first four games to justify the confidence Ponton expressed so openly. They have a chance in the next two weeks, however, to confirm the coach's opinion by beating Sarnia Imperials for the second play-off berth in the Ontario union.

Bulk of the east's football interest will centre on Sarnia Saturday for the Beach-Imperial tussle, ranked with the McGill-University of Toronto game as finest on this week's program. A loss would all but eliminate Beaches, for Montreal Nationals should sew up first place against Peterborough Orfuns tomorrow.

At Montreal U. of T. makes its only unbeaten, united team in the section—McGill Redmen.

While Toronto struggles against the red forces, Mustangs invade Kingston for a clash against the improving, though still winless, Queen's tricolor, who lost the college championship last week.

PORTLAND WINS OVER SPOKANE

PORTLAND—Portland Buckaroos drubbed Spokane's luckless Clippers 3 to 1 in a Pacific Coast Hockey League game here last night. It was the third defeat in as many starts for the Clippers.

Louis Holmes, Portland centre, sniped the first goal just past the 12-minute mark in the opening period. Stan Vickers put the Bucs two up in the second before Art Merriill banged in Clippers goal. Eddie Ouelette counted the last goal shortly after the third period opened.

SUMMARY

First period — 1, Portland. Holmes (Webster), 12.08. Penalties—Roche, McCarthey (two).

Second period—2, Portland, Vickers (Holmes), 7.23; 3, Spokane, Merrill (Ripley-Kennedy), 15.59. Penalties—Kenney, Webster, McCartney, Ripley.

Third period—4, Portland, Ouelette (Webster) 0.54. Penalties—Vickers, Gilhooley (two) Ouelette.

Leafs Buy Marker

TORONTO — Manager Conny Smythe of Toronto Maple Leafs announced today he had purchased Gus Marker, right-winger of the disbanded Montreal Maroons. It was expected Marker would report at once to the Leafs, beaten 3 to 2 in their National Hockey League opener last night by Boston.

Marker, Allan Shields and Dave Trottier were the last of the Maroon players to be disposed of. Shields and Trottier have been waived by N.H.L. clubs.

Clarksburg, W.Va. — Al Ettore, 197½, Philadelphia, knocked out Joe Soffi, 193¾, New York (3).

Dallas, Texas — Lew Jenkins, 133, Texas, knocked out Carl Faust, 135, Chicago (8).

Trojans-Bears Hold Spotlight

LOS ANGELES — Southern California, uncermoniously shunted into the also-ran class five weeks ago after losing to Alabama, makes a dramatic bid for come-back honors and possible Rose Bowl glory tomorrow when its Trojans clash with California in one of the United States biggest football games of the day.

Indications are that 85,000, possibly more, will swarm into Memorial Coliseum to see the men of Troy try to stop the undefeated Bears from Berkeley in their drive toward another Pacific Coast Conference championship and a repeat performance in Pasadena's famed bowl January 2.

California, boasting much the same power attack of its 1937 title team, remained the favorite in the pre-game predictions as Coach Leonard B. (Stub) Allison prepared to bring the Bears into Los Angeles tomorrow.

But Trojan supporters showed a surprising confidence in their rejuvenated eleven, which has plodded stubbornly back into the championship picture after turning in a losing and very sour game to 'Bama September 24.

Navy Battles Bays

Match Will Feature Tomorrow's Rugby Program; Leading Wanderer's Tackle Garrison; Start at 3

The race for city senior rugby supremacy will resume tomorrow afternoon at Macdonald Park, with J.B.A.A. and Navy listed for battle on the upper pitch and Wanderers and Garrison meeting on the lower field. Both games will start at 3.

Both the James Bay club and sailors will be out to regain some of the lost prestige they suffered at the hands of Wally Brynjolfson's Oak Bay Wanderers when they lock horns tomorrow. This duel has all the earmarks of being a hard-fought affair with Bays slightly favored to emerge on the top end of the score.

Manager Bob McInnes of the Bays will trot out a reshuffled line-up to cope with the blue-jackets. He will send Cyril Doheney, wingman, up to lend his support to the scrum, and will also give Frank Doheney his first start of the season in the pack. Lucas, a former college backfield player, will take over the right wing position. McInnes believes that these changes will result in a smoother working machine.

The Navy lads are in top condition and will be at their best strength for the management. Like the Bays they have won one game and lost one.

Wanderers, who are already stepping along in championship stride, are expected to score up their third straight victory when they take on the Tommies from Work Point Barracks on the lower layout. The only change in the Wanderer team will be Groff Murdoch, replacing coach Joe Roberts in the backfield.

The Garrison club is built up of solid rock and although the odds are stacked against them for this tussle, their supporters can rest assured that the Tommies will be in there fighting to the last ditch.

Victoria College and Canadian Scottish will meet at the High School grounds in the only intermediate game billed.

Wanderers intermediates will journey to Shawnigan Lake to meet the school team.

Following tomorrow's matches the rep team to meet Varsity will be selected. Members of the selection committee will attend the games.

Teams follow:

Oak Bay Wanderers (Seniors): Grogan, Brown, B. Murdoch, Carney, G. Murdoch, Barber, Anderson, Forbes, Colthurst, Gornall, Doswell, Stephens, Ley, Acland and Guelpha.

J.B.A.A. — Ferguson, Bridge, Halkett, Smith, Lucas, Langdon, Brown, Mair, Petticrew, Bray, Andrews, F. Doheny, Simpson, Dalzell, C. Doheny and Leighton.

Navy—Mylrea, Stirling, Sciban, Sweet, McDonald, Smith, Cosier, Manfield, Nelson, Fisher, Banfield, Rutherford, Young, Fears, Seeley and Lowe.

Garrison — Hatch, Hipwood, Venus, Polinsky, P. J. Ford, Cockril, B. Ford, Featherstone, F. Pocock, Carson, J. D. Wood, Buxton, Martin, D. Wood and S. J. Pocock.

Canadian Scotish (Intermediates) — Jones, Martin, Mair, Oddy, Williams, Sceats, Bishop, McMin, Holmes, McDonald, Holland, Clarkson, Garrison, Sorenson, Malcolm, Painter and Luxton.

Boston-Chicago Take Major Hockey Openers

Former Beat Toronto By Odd Goal

Champion Black Hawks Smother Americans Under 6 to 1 Score

TORONTO (CP)—It must be a little cold and gloomy for Eddie Shore in Boston today as he watches and waits for word from manager Art Ross of the Bruins, supposed to need old Eddie in the worst sort of way to help out in National Hockel League warfare.

Slipping young Johnny Crawford into Eddie's place, the Boston club started another season last night with a 3 to 2 victory over the Maple Leafs in Toronto, and the Bruin defencemen showed they might somehow be able to carry on without the aged warhorse by scoring all their team's goals, Crawford nicking the first in the second period.

The Bruins won the hard way, coming from behind a Toronto lead in the third to win on a goal by Jack Portland, who used to partner Shore.

Chicago Black Hawks, Stanley Cup holders, swarmed over New York Americans to a 6 to 1 win before the largest opening-night crowd in Chicago's history, 15,482 fans.

A crowd of 10,000 in Toronto watched Crawford backhand a relay from Ray Gettliffe and Bill Cowley past Turk Broda for the season's first goal. A minute later, with the second period 11 minutes old, Syl Apps tied the score by splitting the defence after taking Bob Davidson's pass.

DAVIDSON SCORES

Just 17 seconds after the third opened and with Portland off for tripping, Davidson ripped home Murphy Chamberlain's pass on a [illegible] Gordie Drillon gave the Bears the opening to tie. Clapper did it through a maze of legs.

Portland was left uncovered when the Bruins bore down again and he netted Bill Cowley's pass from 10 feet out.

Chinese Win Hoop Battle

Defeat Crescents to Hold Lead in Senior B Men's Division

Chinese Students, Beavers and Bees were victors last night in a trio of Victoria and District Basketball League games at the high school gym.

The Chinese hoopsters, after a close first-half fight from Crescents, romped home to a 25 to 17 victory in the last 20 minutes. This was a men's senior "B" scrap. In the first half the Crescents held the upper hand on the scoreboard for some time, but the Students came back near the breather to take a 13 to 12 lead, their third lead of the session. The Chinese held their margin in the last half, but at times they were hard pressed by the Crescents, cellar occupants in this division.

Spencers bowed to defeat, 31 to 20, in their senior "C" men's battle with Beavers. The storemen, last year's champions, were outplayed by the Beavers. The winners took a 19 to 11 lead in the first half and increased their margin in the second.

Bees raced through for a 54 to 29 triumph over Y.M.C.A. in the opening game on the program, an intermediate "A" boys' tussle. The Bees were in front, 23 to 11, at the halfway mark.

Bob Macmurchie refereed.

Teams and scorers follow:

Rotary Talent Heard at Lunch

Club Orchestra, Led By A. Prescott and Other Club Artists, Entertains

The Rotary Concert Party, composed of all local Rotary Club talent, entertained at the regular luncheon meeting of the club in the Empress Hotel yesterday.

A varied program was presented, which was appreciatively received by the fellow club members.

Tom Kelway acted as master of ceremonies, and A. Prescott conducted the club orchestra.

An orchestral number composed by Mr. Prescott opened the program.

Two vocal solos, "Glorious Devon" and "My Ain Folk," were rendered by Rev. A. E. Hendy, who was accompanied at the piano by T. Meyers.

P. Burley conducted a musical monologue in which he had all the members taking part.

Col. T. Goodman gave a comic monologue titled, "Mindin' That 'ole in the Road." Mr. Meyers played an appropriate piano accompaniment.

The Rotary quartette, composed of Frank Sehl, J. Robertson, Frank M. Shandley and Tom Kelway, sang a minstrel number and also a skit song on various members of the club, which was greatly enjoyed. Mr. Sehl played the accompaniment as well.

The program was rounded off by a solo, "Hail, Caledonia," by Mr. Kelway. The orchestra accompanied the selection, and the members joined in the singing of the chorus.

Appreciation to the artists was shown in a brief closing talk by G. Hamilton Harman, president.

Mrs. Colebourne Still on Stand

Cross-examination Interrupted to Determine Admissibility of Questions

Mrs. Vera Colebourne returned to the witness stand at noon today for cross-examination by crown counsel that was interrupted to determine the legality of certain questions submitted to her. She was scheduled to go back into the box after the luncheon adjournment on the fifth day of her second trial on a charge of murdering her husband, Sidney William Colebourne on the morning of April 1 at 2230 Bowker Avenue.

Dr. Thomas Miller was cross-examined this morning by M. B. Jackson, K.C., crown counsel, on his evidence regarding marks about the fatal wound on Colebourne. He discounted the theory that black edges of the wound could have been caused only by powder burns. He thought death had occurred almost instantaneously.

In her replies to Mr. Jackson, Mrs. Colebourne stated she had not informed a certain man, "J. R.," that alleged threats by the deceased, that he would stalk someone "with the cunning of a Chinaman" were made against him.

Mr. Jackson suggested the late Mr. Colebourne had been in good spirits on the night preceding the fatality and had discussed payments to Dr. Robertson with Mrs. Colebourne.

The accused denied those suggestions.

R. C. Lowe, defence counsel, raised objection to certain questions asked by Mr. Jackson when Mrs. Colebourne stated they related to statements made by her to the late Oak Bay police chief.

The jury was excluded and the point debated by counsel.

When the jury returned, Mr. Jackson asked why Mrs. Colebourne had attempted to be as quiet as possible in returning to bed after having thrown a can of paint on to the sidewalk just out[illegible]

Her extreme caution in returning to bed had been taken at another time, Mrs. Colebourne said.

Okanagan Apples Here Cheaper Now

Shipments of McIntosh Red and Delicious apples are expected on Wholesale Row tomorrow from the Okanagan. Prices on both varieties are considerably cheaper.

Two carloads of Grand Forks potatoes were unloaded at the warehouses today, in addition to a shipment of Anjou pears from the Okanagan.

Shipments of Emperor grapes and Washington lettuce were also received today.

City Workman Is Hurt at Goldstream

Thomas Bridges, Shelbourne Street, a civic employee, suffered skull injuries which rendered him unconscious while working on the Goldstream watershed this afternoon.

He was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital in the C. and C. ambulance, where Dr. J. M. Fowler reported this afternoon X-ray pictures were being taken to determine the extent of his injuries.

It was reported Bridges was hit by the limb of a tree which fell on his head.

LEADING MINING MEN OF B.C. HERE

Some of British Columbia's leading mining men were in Victoria today to attend the annual meeting of the Mining Association of British Columbia which will be held at 7 in the Union Club.

Hon. W. J. Asselstine, Minister of Mines, and Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, will speak at the dinner.

Most of the mine operators were expected this afternoon from the mainland, while some of them came over this morning and today paid calls on government officials at the Parliament Buildings.

Included in the group which arrived early today were: Mortimer Lamb, secretary of the Mine Operators' Association; C. P. Browning, general manager of Britannia Mines; C. V. North of the B.C. Nickel Mine, and A. S. Baillie of Copper Mountain.

Don Cossacks to Sing Here Nov. 14

The appearance at the Empire Theatre on November 14 of the world famous Don Cossack chorus calls to mind a poignant moment at a banquet in celebration of their 3,000th concert in a leading New York hotel a year ago, when the Grand Duchess Marie and the Grand Duke Dmitri were guests. The members of the chorus were filing past the couple to pay their re[illegible] was heard and the group, turning their eyes to the Grand Duchess, beheld two of the giant chorister's kneeling in front of her and weeping as they kissed her skirts. Commanding them to rise, the Grand Duchess threw her arms in turn around the two Cossacks and kissed their cheeks. The two men had been officers in the Imperial Regiment and were the Grand Duchess's personal bodyguards. They had not seen her since the frightful days of the Revolution.

Archie Kerr, 1134 Summit Avenut, a B.C. Electric street railwayman, suffered shock and head injuries when he was knocked down by a car on Hillside Avenue last night. He was walking home with three companions and was struck by a car driven by G. B. Robinson, 2929 Quadra Street, a police report said.

Chest Still Has $35,000 to Get

Canvassers Renew Efforts to Wind Up Campaign By Monday Night

With four days to go and nearly $35,000 still to be collected, the Community Chest's army of volunteer canvassers went out with renewed energy this morning in an attempt to wind up their campaign on schedule by Monday night.

Up to last night $54,911.20 had been collected out of the objective of $89,297. Yesterday added $5,770.35 to the total.

The canvassers found encouragement in the fact that collections, which had lagged on Wednesday, were once again above the total reached at the same stage of the 1937 drive.

One of the features of this year's campaign has been the number of people who have come to the Chest headquarters at 1205 Government Street to bring in their donations of their own accord. In many cases donors who had been out when the canvassers called at their homes have come to the office to save the volunteers the trouble of having to make a second call.

The office staff has also received many inquiries from people interested in the Chest's aims. Two telephones, G 1012 and E 7911, are kept busy in this way.

PEACE THANKOFFERING

One interesting suggestion received by the Chest yesterday was that many Victorians might be interested in making a special thankoffering for peace.

The donor who put forward the idea said: "We should remember that if there had been war there would probably have been no Community Chest, but the distress would have been correspondingly greater."

Notes of the Legislature

Under present plans Hon. Dr. Hall will present his annual budget speech to the Legislature next Wednesday and the House will then take a four-day adjournment until the following Monday. It would not sit on Remembrance Day, the Friday, in any case.

Both the mental hospitals on the mainland are overcrowded, Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, showed in answer to questions in the House. Essondale, with a bed capacity of 1,864, has 2,735 patients, and New Westminster, with a capacity of 371, has 600 patinents. At the Wilkinson Road Home there are 262 patients for a capacity of 265.

Annual operating cost of the Pattullo Bridge is estimated at $31,600, Hon. F. M. MacPherson, Minister of Public Works, replied to questions. This does not include interest on the $4,000,000 bridge loan and sinking funds. The revenue from tolls, up to the end of March averaged between $16,000 and $17,000 a month, but Mr. MacPherson did not give details for the heavy summer travel.

To union men, one and all— please help the Chest. ***

Lone Action Criticized

Three Reeves Criticize City's Action on Tenders; Chamber President Answers Mayor

Mayor Andrew McGavin and the City Council came in for heavy criticism today from the reeves of the three suburban municipalities, the president of the Chamber of Commerce, a former mayor of the city and a number of leading business men for their attitude on the transportation question and their proposal to call for tenders for a system limited to the city alone.

The occasion was a luncheon meeting of the Real Estate Board of Victoria which received the report of a joint committee of the board and the Chamber of Commerce.

Duncan MacBride, president of the chamber, said the Chamber of Commerce, which represented Victoria and Greater Victoria, would not submit to the City Council refusing to accept from it suggestions and information on matters affecting the business men of the city.

"We demand the right to study these questions and make representations to the authority concerned, whether it be at Ottawa, across the bay, or at the City Hall," Mr. MacBride said.

"Although we give the council credit for sincerity of purpose, we claim that we are also sincere, and will hold to our rights as representing a cross section of the city."

NO DICTATING

Mr. MacBride added the chamber had no intention of dictating to the council what action it should take on matters which it was the council's right to decide.

F. E. Winslow, who represented the Real Estate Board on the committee which prepared the joint report, said: "In Victoria we are rapidly becoming a totalitarian state. The surrounding municipalities are a sort of Sudetenland.

"Mayor McGavin's remarks savor of dictatorship."

Former Mayor David Leeming, president of the real estate board, told the meeting: "The city of Victoria, in company with the other municipalities of the prov[illegible] of B.C. Municipalities, has been asking the government for years to create a public utilities commission. . . .

"When we are at the point of getting it, what an absurdity it is for the city to step off and take action of its own independently."

Reeve William Crouch of Saanich asked: "Why all this hurry?" and added: "Two or three weeks will not make any difference. . . Nothing whatever should be done until enabling legislation has been put through and until we see what is in the public utilities bill, which might greatly affect the transportation question."

Reeve Crouch said that if the city granted a contract to a transportation system for service within its own borders the surrounding municipalities would be put in a difficult position, with the company able to dictate its own terms and set fares outside the city limits at any level it wanted.

Reeve R. R. Taylor of Oak Bay said the municipalities were perfectly willing to co-operate with the city, and expected to have enabling legislation, putting them in a position to negotiate with a transportation company, passed by the provincial House within two or three weeks.

As soon as that was granted they could act very quickly.

He pointed out that city business men depended largely for their trade on the population of the municipalities. Oak Bay itself had no desire for a large business section, but if a transportation barrier were placed between it and the city it might be forced to develop one.

Reeve Alexander Lockley of Esquimalt said he believed no sane company would tender for the city alone, and without seeing the contents of the Public Utilities Bill.

No company could make transportation a paying proposition, except at excessive rates, without the suburban population to give it volume of traffic, he said.

He suggested "the four municipalities should get around one table and deal with this in a business-like way."

Reeve Lockley added: "We started too late to hurry. . . Because no action was taken last year we should not try to rush through a thing so important to everyone.

"Last year was the time to have got enabling legislation."

Other members of the Real Estate Board who spoke during the debate without exception called for a unified transportation system for the city and the three municipalities.

The committee which prepared the report was instructed to carry on, and to report the outcome of the meeting to the City Council.

Now is the time for all good men to help the Community Chest. ***

Building Design Control Sought

Erection of Signs Also Discussed By Municipal Committee

"The powers for councils to control the architectural designs of buildings, and to regulate advertising signs and hoardings in any area of a town are conferred in recommendations made to the municipal committee of the B.C. legislature this morning.

"This is an excellent plan," said R. R. Burns, committee chairman, of the clause to give control of buildings. "In our town of Trail, built on the side of a hill, there are as many as four houses on one 50x100 lot."

There was considerable discussion on the control of signs.

Leslie H. Eyres, Conservative, Chilliwack, protested the powers were too wide as they would give councils absolute control.

CONTROL OF SIGNS

"We've got to protect residential areas," said Reeve J. B. Leyland, of West Vancouver. "We have cases where a sign company will offer to pay taxes on a vacant lot in the middle of fine houses so they can put up big signs. This lowers the value of nearby property."

Mr. Paton commented that in the Old Country all signs were being removed from highways.

"Yes, but make the powers specific," said Mr. Eyres. "Make it a ban on signs on main highways, or at corners, but not anywhere."

"This would prevent a man putting a sign on his own building," said L. A. Shepherd, C.C.F., Delta.

"If it is unsightly a council might want to," said Mr. Paton.

A question whether councils have the right to enforce parking laws was raised by Harry Sulli[illegible] solicitor, on an amendment granting these powers.

"We all have by-laws about them," he said, "but a case came up during the year raised some doubts. We are now making sure that we have the right."

Other proposals before the committee would give councils power to regulate or prohibit the peddling of meat on the streets, and to control the use of loudspeakers and amplifiers.

Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

TELLS SAFE, SIMPLE WAY TO TREAT AND RELIEVE AT HOME

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh, or if the phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms may be entirely overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost. Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmint (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. An improvement is sometimes noted after the first day's treatment. Breathing should become easy, while the distressing head noises, headaches, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., should gradually disappear under the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell, taste, defective hearing and mucus dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms which suggest the presence of catarrh and which may often be overcome by this efficacious treatment. It is said that nearly ninety per cent of all ear troubles are caused by catarrh and there must, therefore, be many people whose hearing may be restored by this simple, harmless, home treatment.

Speech From Throne at Prorogation in London Also Tells Of British Government's Close Study of New Defence Requirements in Light of "Recent Experience"

LONDON (CP-Havas) — The speech from the Throne was read as follows at the prorogation of Parliament today:

"My Lords and members of the House of Commons:

"My relations with foreign powers continue to be friendly.

"In response to an invitation from the President of the French Republic, the Queen and I paid a visit July last to Paris. We were profoundly moved by the evident sincerity and spontaneity of the welcome extended to us by the French government and people. Nothing could more clearly have demonstrated the strength of the bonds which so happily unite our two countries.

"I have followed with deep anxiety the developments in the grave crisis through which Europe has just passed. Throughout the whole period my government, in close accord with the French government, made every endeavor both in Prague and Berlin to ensure a lasting and peaceful settlement of the problem of the German minority in Czechoslovakia. Their efforts were ably asisted by the mission of investigation and mediation in Czechoslovakia headed by Viscount Runciman.

TALKS WITH HITLER

"In view of the increasing gravity of the crisis the Prime Minister on September 14 decided to fly to Berchtesgaden, in order to establish personal contact with the German Chancellor. This initiative was followed on September 22 by a further visit by the Prime Minister to Godesberg. At this stage the prospect of a peaceful settlement seemed almost to have vanished, but at the last moment the Prime Minister made a proposal to the German Chancellor for a four-power conference.

"Signor Mussolini gave valuable support to this suggestion and on September 29 the German Chancellor, the French President [illegible] the Italian government and the Prime Minister [illegible] came to an agreement. The settlement thus arrived at was accepted, with a dignity that has earned general admiration, by the government and people of Czechoslovakia.

"The cause of peace was powerfully aided by the timely action of the President of the United States of America. The desire of all peoples not to be drawn into war with one another is manifest and significant, and everywhere men and women share with me, I am convinced, a feeling of deep thankfulness that the imminent peril was thus averted. I pray, with the passing of this peril, a new era may have opened for Europe.

MOBILIZATION TEST

"During this period of anxiety it became necessary to put into force certain measures, including mobilization of the navy, calling out a considerable portion of the personnel of the auxiliary forces and initiation of certain precautions against air raids.

"All these arrangements were carried out with admiral promptitude. In every department of national life men and women alike came forward to serve their country. I was proud to observe the calmness and determination displayed by all my people and I thank them for their spirit of service.

"In the spring of this year my government concluded an agreement with the Italian government regulating a number of questions of mutual concern. My ministers have now decided to bring that agreement into full operation as soon as possible. They are confident this decision will still further strengthen the good relations already existing between Italy and this country.

"My ministers have continued to participate in the work and deliberations of the League of Nations. They have taken the lead at the recent meeting of the Assembly in providing for explicit recognition of the independent existence of the Covenant of the League, apart from the treaties of peace, and in securing a comprehensive and practical view of obligations devolving on members thereunder.

"It gave me great pleasure to meet representatives of the governing body of the International Labor Organization, which on the invitation of my government, held their October meeting in London.

FIGHTING IN SPAIN

"The civil war in Spain has continued to engage the earnest attention of my ministers. They had maintained their efforts to make the international policy of nonintervention more effective and they have noted with satisfaction the recent decision of the Spanish government to repatriate all its foreign combatants and the decision of the administration of Burgos to dispense with a proportion of those on the other side.

"I regret that hostilities between China and Japan still continue with great loss of life to both combatants and with considerable damage to the rights and interests of third parties. I earnestly hope that this conflict will be brought to an early termination.

"The cordial co-operation in matters of common interest between my government and the government of Egypt has been amply confirmed during the recent anxious months. Certain provisions of the Anglo-Egyptian treaty of alliance, the cost of which—owing to the increasing complexity of military and air force requirements—was found likely greatly to exceed the original estimates, have been revised in a protocol, the text of which has been laid before you. It is my confident hope that this revision will strengthen the sincere friendship between my government and the Royal Egyptian government, and will expedite the important work of construction of barracks and other accommodations for my forces.

"It was with great satisfaction that I gave my assent to the bill confirming certain agreements with Eire. I welcome these agreements, and I hope that they will promote closer co-operation and good feeling between the two countries.

PALESTINE DISORDERS

"I have been deeply distressed by the continuance and recent intensification of violence and lawlessness in Palestine, which have necessitated dispatch in the past few weeks of strong military reinforcements. The technical commission have now completed their labors and their report is being carefully studied by my ministers.

"Conditions prevailing in the West Indies have given me concern, and I have appointed a commission to visit certain colonies in that area to make recommendations with regard to the social and economic position in them.

"Members of the House of Commons:

"The continued strengthening of our defences has required additional [illegible] accepted as necessary by the country.

"I thank you for the provision you have made for the public service.

"My Lords and members of the House of Commons:

"Defence requirements have engaged the unremitting attention of my ministers and are being reviewed in the light of recent experience.

"I have given my assent to a measure requiring local authorities to prepare schemes of air raid precautions for their areas. Such schemes are an essential part of the defence organization of the country.

"The development of the national health services has continued and steps have been taken with success to make those services more widely known and to encourage their use."

The speech then mentioned acts passed by Parliament dealing with domestic affairs, including slum clearance and housing, study of the population problem, unemployment insurance, bacon production and sea fisheries, coal commission and aid to the British film industry.

OAK BAY THEATRE

"Dusty Ermine," which is showing at the Oak Bay Theatre, is adapted from the successful London stage play, and this Twickenham film gives you something really different in the way of entertainment. In the first place the story concerns crime from an angle that has not, until now, been fully show on the screen, and secondly, most of the action takes place amidst the splendor of the Austrian Alps.

HILARITY REIGNS AT THIS SHOW—Mary Astor and Walter Pidgeon in "Listen Darling," now featured at the Dominion Theatre.

Laugh Show At Dominion

'Listen, Darling' Introduces Hilarious Matchmaking Plot

A search for love on wheels, family life in a trailer going across the country, and comical contretemps galore arising from experiments in matchmaking by Freddie Bartholomew and Judy Garland furnish hilarity and romance in fast-moving entertainment in "Listen, Darling," now playing at the Dominion Theatre with Mary Astor, Alan Hale and Walter Pidgeon as the experimented-with lovers.

The new picture tells the story of a pretty widow, with a young daughter, who is about to marry the town banker (Gene Lockhart) she does not love to insure her children's security. The daughter (Miss Garland) enlists the aid of her schoolmate "Buzz" (Freddie Bartholomew), and they "kidnap" her in the family trailer, secretary plotting to find an eligible husband.

On the trailer trip they fall in with a vacationing lawyer (Walter Pidgeon) and an insurance executive who promptly falls in love with Miss Astor. The situation is complicated further when the banker shows up and pandemonium reigns humorously until the end.

'That Certain Age' Billed at Capitol

Packed with clever comedy, brilliant with dialogue, the sparkle of youth and the indescribable beauty of Deanna Durbin's voice, "That Certain Age," coming tomorrow to the Capitol Theatre, is hailed as the finest of the four pictures this great little star has made to date.

Deanna sings five numbers. These are "My Own," "Be a Good Scout," You're as Pretty as a Picture" and two classical selections, "Les Filles des Cadiz" by Leo Delibes and "Romeo and Juliet Waltz" from the opera.

Playing opposite Deanna is Melvyn Douglas.

Forest Giants Felled in Film

Director William Keighley wanted actual scenes of big trees being felled for "Valley of the Giants," the Warner Bros. feature filmed in Technicolor, now showing at the Atlas Theatre, and getting the shots proved to be the hardest job on location.

A railroad ran within two miles of the logging operations. From there the equipment had to be carried up a hill and along the logging path. The path led along 10 and 12-foot longs and not once in the trip did anyone walk on solid ground.

A skeleton crew of 25 men, including Keighley, Wayne Morris, Alan Hale and Cinematographer Sol Polito, made the trip and each man had to carry cameras, properties and other equipment.

But the trip was worth while, for that day the loggers cut down giant trees, one 20 feet in diameter and 350 feet tall, and another 17 feet in diameter and 325 feet tall.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

Setting out for that part of the Far East on a venture so perilous that authorities at first refused a permit, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson found incredible marvels on the island of Borneo, where they filmed their greatest, adventure, "Borneo," a Twentieth Century-Fox release now at the Columbia Theatre.

last season and he clicked immediately in the majors. Dutch was leading scorer in the eastern United States circuit before he was promoted. He spent the 1936-37 season in England.

"I was pretty scared when Lester first moved me up to the Rangers last season and I got a real thrill out of it. After a few games, though, the novelty seems to wear off and you realize you're just playing hockey after all. We played in Toronto my first night and beat the Leafs 4 to 2. Guess that was my biggest thrill.

"Don't let anybody tell you there isn't a terrific jump between amateur and professional hockey. It's as different as day and night. All this talk about juniors playing better hockey than is played in the N.H.L. is a lot of bunk. Fans like the juniors because they race and tear and skate miles farther than they have to.

"The pros are smarter, faster and take advantage of all the breaks. Instead of dashing around like the juniors, they wait for the breaks and when they come—bang, in goes a goal." Dutch has great respect for Boston Bruins' sauerkraut line of Milt Schmidt, Porky Dumart and Bobby Bauer; also Kitchener boys.

"They're going to be one of hockey's greatest lines," he said. "They're great now, for that matter; but they're just starting. Schmidt is only 19 or 20 and he's really a sweetheart. I think Boston will give Rangers the toughest time this season. They're the toughest club in the league to play against. But we've got a real club, too," Hiller concluded, "so it should be a great season."

Seismograph to Insure Safety

Vibrations Recorded On Plane Far Above Earthquake Zone

SEATTLE (AP) — A seismograph to record vibrations on the huge 72-passenger Boeing clipper will insure safety of passengers on trans-oceanic trips, although the ship will fly far above earthquake dangers, a Boeing Aircraft Co. official said here.

R. J. Minstall, vice-president of engineering, explained the seismograph was used to record vibration at 261 different points on the plane under varying operating conditions.

"The vibrations were translated into electrical impulses and transmitted to the test recording room in the plane," he said. "There they were 'pepped up' by radio amplifiers and finally transformed into a jagged streak of light across a small viewing screen. A motion picture filmed four of these vibrating streaks simultaneously for later study."

He said tests proved the 41-ton clipper could be managed by two fingers on the control column and with less force on the rudder pedals than normally used on automobile pedals.

Another feature is accessibility of the power plants, which makes it possible for two of the 1,500 horsepower motors to be repaired in flight if necessary while the plane operates on the other two.

At a brief ceremony yesterday afternoon the clipper was turned over to the federal civil aeronautics authority for further license trials.

ST. CHRISTOPHER MEDALS SOLD OUT

NEW YORK (AP) — Britain is sold out of St. Christopher medals, Commodore Robert Irving reported today as he nosed the giant Queen Mary into her berth — with the aid of 10 tugs.

Last voyage he had to perform the unprecedented feat of docking the 80,000-ton queen of the Atlantic without tugs because of a seamen's strike. At the time he gave credit for his success to a St. Christopher medal he wore (St. Christopher is the guardian saint of voyagers.)

"When the story got in the English papers," Irving recounted, "there was a run on the medals and today few can be found in the British Isles."

Crew of Wrecked Vessel Safe

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—Fishing boat found on the rocks off point Hugh Light, Admiralty Island, has been identified as the Eliza, which foundered in a storm the evening of October 28, David Croker, Petersburg customs agent, reported today.

He said the two-man crew, Frank James and a companion, reached shore and were given two days' food supplies by Jack Davis, hunting nearby, and left in a skiff when the storm abated.

Around The Docks

COMING FROM EAST

British freighter Anglo-Indian which on her last trip to this port had a fire in her hold and was forced to put into San Pedro to quell it, is due to return to Victoria November 15 with cargo from Montreal for the Vancouver-St. Lawrence Line. She will berth at the Canadian National docks to discharge local cargo.

Anglo-Indian will be followed in this service by Ss. Niceto de Larrinaga and Ms. Cressington Court.

HOLIDAY SHIP

Inbound from Rotterdam and London, Ms. Damsterdyk will probably be in Victoria for the Remembrance Day holiday.

Latest advices received by Adam P. Moffat, general agent for Royal Mail Lines and Holland American Line, indicate that the Damsterdyk will reach here next Thursday night about 10, via Seattle.

But the ship has 250 tons of general cargo to discharge, and will load over 100 tons outward, which may hold her in port until the afternoon November 11.

This trip the Damsterdyk will berth at the Canadian National docks at Ogden Point, where 50 tons of frozen salmon, 50 tons of cooperage stock and a small consignment of Saanich canned loganberries will be stowed for London.

Damsterdyk brought 21 passengers out from Europe, all but three disembarking at Los Angeles and San Francisco. Those coming north are Mr. and Mrs. P. Best of Vancouver and Miss E. Epstein, who will go ashore at Seattle.

Capt. Th. Jaski, former commander of Ms. Drechtdyk, is on the bridge of the Damsterdyk.

DESTROYERS DUE

H.M.C.S. Ottawa and H.M.C.S. Restigouche, Canada's newly-acquired destroyers purchased from the British Admiralty, sailed yesterday from San Pedro, Calif., for Esquimalt. They are bound here from Portsmouth via Montreal and Halifax and will arrive Monday morning.

Of 1,375 tons each, the destroyers formerly were the Crusader and Comet.

The Ottawa is commanded by Comdr. C. R. H. Taylor, R.C.N., and Restigouche by Lieut.-Commander W. B. L. Holms, R.C.N.

2,325 TONS ON HIKAWA

With a total of 46 passengers aboard and 2,325 tons of cargo for B.C. and overland delivery, Ms. Hikawa Maru of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, will arrive in quarantine here at 12.30 Monday morning from Yokohama, according to word received today by Harry Douglas, Great Northern agent. The ship has two first, five tourist and 12 third class passengers for disembarkation at Vancouver, and three first, 10 tourist and 14 third class for Seattle.

The cargo includes 167 packages of silk and silk goods.

Killed in Hatch

SEATTLE (AP) — Alfred J. Rodberg, 34, ship's fireman, plunged down an open hatch on the Swedish freighter Sydla at the east waterway pier to his death last night.

BALLOT BOXES SENT BY PLANE

EDMONTON (CP) — With President Grant McConachie at the controls a United Air transport plane took off today through wind and snow for the Athabasca constituency in a last minute drive to carry ballot boxes to voters in an approaching provincial by-election.

Battled for 10 days by smoke, fog and snow, authorities yesterday all but gave up hope of getting the boxes across.

McConachie took off from here on a plane with wheels to fly to Peace River, where another plane would be warmed up and equipped with runners. The runner-equipped plane was to fly them from Peace River to Chipewyan, 375 miles north of Edmonton and Fitzgerald, another 100 miles north.

MORE SHIFTS AT HILLCREST MILL

DUNCAN—Good news from Hillcrest this week emphasizes the recent improvement in the lumbering situation here and increases hopes for a busy winter.

The Hillcrest mill is working at top speed to handle several big orders, and has provided employment for many by adding a third shift in the Swede mill and a night shift on the resaw in the big mill.

This, together with increased logging activity at Lake Cowichan, is a heartening sign for all the district.

Fish Are Drinking Themselves to Death

BAY CITY, Mich. (CP)—Saginaw River fish were drinking themselves to death, according to state stream control commissioners, in a complaint filed today against sugar beet factories here. Commissioners said waste from beet factories was flowing into the river, and fish were dying of what resembled the delirium tremens. Commissioners said they would seek an injunction stopping unnecessary pollution of the river.

High-power Station

SEATTLE (AP) — Rear-Admiral Russell R. Waesche, commander of the United States coastguard, said today the new high power coastguard radio station, planned for Seattle, definitely will be built in the near future. The station, he said, would cost $120,000.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP)—Improved export interest in Canadian wheat following a better inquiry at Liverpool for the same grain gave Winnipeg wheat futures a strong undertone late today. Prices rallied from an indifferent opening to close ⅜ to ⅝ cent higher, November 57½, December 57⅜ to 57½, May 60⅞ to 61 and July 61⅝.

Exporters and millers showed more interest in the cash wheat pit where Nos. 1, 2 and 3 northern and garnet wheats changed hands in large volume.

Liverpool rallied briskly to close ½ to ⅝d higher. Buenos Aires, however, was weak, ⅞ cent down at noon.

Domestic demand for oats, export interest in barley and crushers' demand for flax sent coarse grains slightly higher near the close.

CHICAGO (AP) — Fresh indications the United States government has hopes of soon achieving enlarged export sale of wheat did much today to hoist Chicago prices a cent.

Considerable buying of wheat futures here was credited to cash interests, presumably against sales to the United States government. Late cables reported purchasing of wheat futures at Liverpool by previous speculative sellers.

Prices Dip At Close

NEW YORK (AP)—Pre-election hesitancy ruled dealings in today's stock market and prices, comparatively narrow most of the day, dipped fractions to a point or more at the close.

A few motors and an assortment of specialties accounted for moderate advance in the morning while Thursday's buoyant rails and most other groups were stymied by light profit-taking.

While the ticker tape occasionally napped, transfers approximated 1,200,000 shares.

Railway bonds put up a selectively rising performance. Grain future rallied in the commodities department. Wheat at Chicago was up ½ to 1 cent a bushel and corn moved up ¾ to 1⅛.

Foreign securities markets were somewhat uneven. Sterling, at mid-afternoon, was up ⅛ of a cent at 4.76⅛ and the French franc was .00 1-16 of a cent better at 2.66¼ cents.

LIQUORS GAIN

TORONTO (CP)—A few of the industrial and gold shares were bought at advancing prices today and these groups closed with gains in the majority. The base metal and western oil groups registered moderate declines. Volume was at about 700,000 shares.

The common stock of Hiram Walker-Gooderham and Worts was a trading feature, moving in heavy volume at a gain of three or more. Distillers-Seagrams advanced about a point.

With exception of slight weakness in Imperial Oil and Ford A, the other interlisted leaders held their ground and gains outnumbered losses in the steel, food, building, bank and paper groups. F. N. Burt advanced 4 on announcement of an amalgamation plan.

XV—ROADS TO PEACE

Peace is what the world wants, but the question is, "How can we have peace?"

For years Hitler and Mussolini have been taking what they wanted, and Japan has been helping herself to China. If they are allowed to go on with this sort of thing, it will be a "road to peace" of a certin kind, but it probably will fail in the long run.

Statue of the Roumanian hero, Michael the Brave

Germany has broken the Czechoslovak shell. Most of the powerful forts which once guarded the republic are gone. Hitler has said he wouldn't demand any more, but perhaps it is too much to expect him to stand by his word.

If Germany keeps driving eastward, she may place other small countries under her power—Hungary, Roumania and Jugoslavia. With this new help, what nation will be able to stand against her? There are many German-speaking people in Switzerland, and that would be a fine country to own. Poland has German-speaking people inside her borders, and so does Denmark. Belgium has several thousands of them, and Holland might be classed as largely Germanic or Nordic in its race.

Hitler may stop reaching out, but if he doesn't, he probably will become master of Europe. That may mean peace of a sort, but there will be too much [illegible] lions of people.

Perhaps Mussolini will prove to be a stumbling block. He has been playing "second fiddle" of late, but would rather have the first violin in his hands.

Another possible stumbling block is Russia. It is believed Hitler wants the Ukraine, the richest part of Russia. If he tries to get it, he can hardly expect his "puff and bluff" method to work.

Faced with the danger of having to bow to Hitler, the small nations of Europe may band together in alliance with a few large ones. If this happens, it may force Germany to halt.

Another possible road to peace is to form customs unions, that is, to take away tariff taxes. If the nations of Europe let goods pass freely from their borders, some believe the main reason for war will be gone.

A customs union would cut down the cost of living, but it would take away taxes from the governments. How could the loss of money be made up? The best way to "make it up" would be to cut the size of armies and navies all over Europe.

HOROSCOPE

Saturday, November 5, 1938

Menacing aspects rule strongly today, according to astrology. Portents of grave future consequences are discerned by the seers.

Mars continues to threaten the planet earth and there is a sign read as indicating increased anxiety for heads of European nations.

King George VI, who is a subject of Sagittarius, is now likely to prove his courage and his devotion through the exercise of wise adherence to British ideals.

Advance in the cost of living and increase in taxation will cause widespread anxiety, but will not affect appreciably the usual Christmas trade.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of small perplexities, but wise decisions will be possible as antidotes. Jealousy will be prevalent among young folk.

Children born on this day probably will be intelligent and successful. Subjects of this sign of Scorpio may be lucky in having government aid to careers, but many succeed through unusual energy.

B.C.-U.S. Ceremony For Armistice Day

VANCOUVER (CP) — High school students from British Columbia and the state of Washington will assemble at the International Peace Arch at Blaine, Wash., November 11, to participate in joint Armistice Day ceremonies.

You give and forget—but your gift is not forgotten by those you help. ***

SIDE GLANCES By George Clark

"We'd better eat everything now. We might get interested in the game and forget it."

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am very much in love with a girl to whom I was engaged, but she broke it off because she was not ready to settle down. I told her that if we married we would not really be settling down, but enjoying life together and having just as good times as we were before but she couldn't see it that way. Since then I have been trying to do my best to win her back, but it seems impossible. What would you advise me to do in a case like this?

GEORGE.

Answer: Let her alone for a while. Don't go near her or hold any communication with her. Let her think that you have accepted her ultimatum and that she has lost you. If you can make her think that you have become interested in some other girl it will help a lot to make the situation jell.

For you see she is trying to have her cake and eat it, too. She wants to have your love and attentions and to keep you as a steady stand-by that she can call on [illegible] other dates. But if she finds out that she has either got to take you or leave you, it will at least help her make up her mind.

[illegible] to marry isn't very much in love. She has only a mild case of affection and is not the victim of the grand passion. If she was as much in love with you as you are with her she wouldn't dread the altar. She wouldn't think of getting married as being sold down the river into slavery. She wouldn't think that spending her evenings at home with you would be a dull and dreary process.

On the contrary, a girl who is really in love looks forward to her wedding as the great moment in her life. She is eager to belong to the man she loves, and she looks upon the little home that she is going to make for her husband as the realization of her castle of dreams in which they will spend blissful evenings shut away from the world.

But never try to persuade a girl to marry you until she is ready to settle down. If you do, you will have only a restless, dissatisfied, peevish wife on your hands who is always wanting to go to places and do things, and who pines for flirtations with other men. No man or woman should get married until domesticity looks better to them than the night clubs.

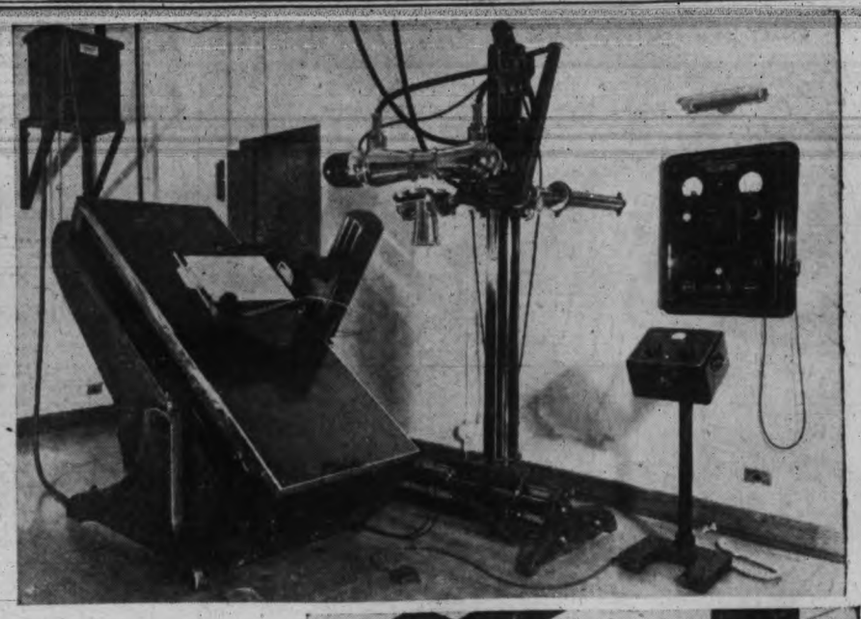
SPURNS RICHES—Love and happiness come before riches in the plans of 26-year-old Janet White, above, who sticks to her $30-a-week job in a Rochester, N.Y., department store, demonstrating sewing machines in preference to marrying Leonard Marler, 35, son of Sir Herbert Marler, Canadian minister to the United States. Miss White publicly renounced her love for Leonard, who now is suing his father for $300,000, charging illegal confinement in a mental hospital.

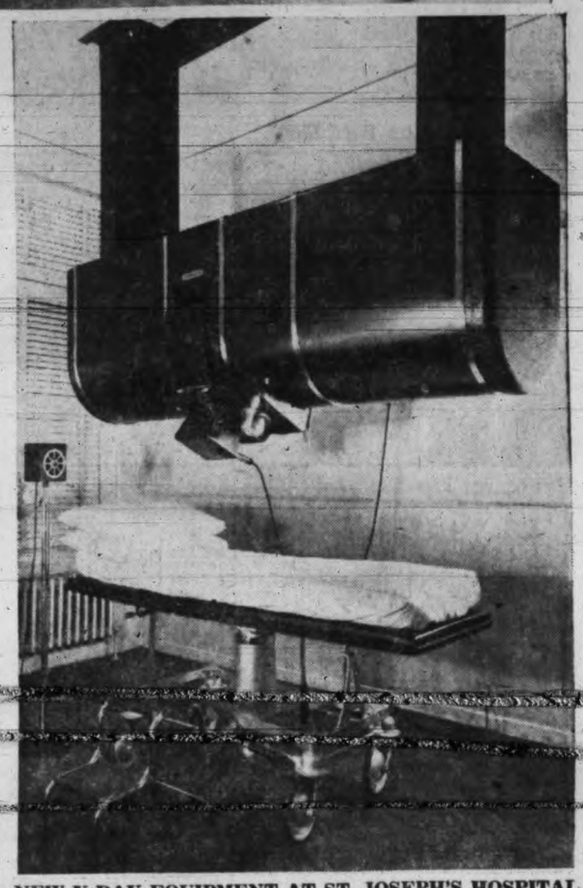
CANADIAN COMMERCE TAKES TO THE AIR—Inauguration of transcontinental air express, recently by Canadian National Express and Trans-Canada Air Lines, marked an important step in Canada's commercial development. The establishment of their air service enabled interchange of commercial parcels between Vancouver and Montreal within 20 hours. Photographs taken on the opening day at four of the main points on the air route are shown. Top—Loading air express at Winnipeg. Lower right—Sir William Mulock, who witnessed the departure of the first air express plane from Malton airport, Toronto. Eighty-five years ago Sir William saw the first train pull out of Toronto station. Centre—Mayor Adhemar Raynault of Montreal (right) delivers an Oka cheese to G. E. Bellerose, general manager of Canadian National Express, to be air-expressed to Mayor George Miller of Vancouver. Lower left—Mayor Miller receiving the Montreal mayor's gift at Vancouver.

ADVERTISING MANAGER—Announcement has been made by McConnell, Eastman and Company Limited, advertising agency, of the appointment of Ivan Denton, above, as manager of the Vancouver office of the company. Mr. Denton has been with the firm for the past seven years as account executive. He has planned and executed some of the major campaigns emanating from the Vancouver office of McConnell, Eastman and Company, several of which have won international recognition. He is an experienced publicity man with experience in Los Angeles moving picture studio and on the editorial staff of a leading Vancouver newspaper.



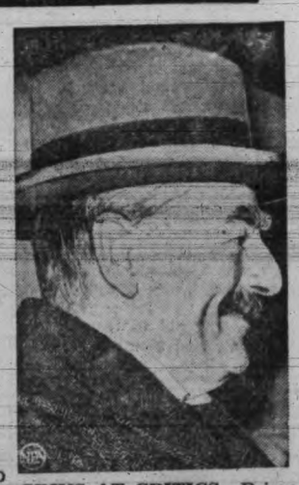
AIDED BY COMMUNITY CHEST—Miss Rae Kirkendale, R.N., Foster Home Supervisor of the Children's Aid Society, greets two modest youngsters on the steps of their foster home prior to taking them to their regular physical examination. Nearly 200 neglected children have been protected and educated this year either in the Society's receiving home or one of the 58 approved foster homes. The Society's work is made possible through the aid of the Community Chest.

HOW TO BRING BACK PROSPERITY—"Just like that!" Business Economist Roger Babson explains with gestures his theory that unemployment would vanish in six months if capital, labor and distributors allowed, interest, wages and prices to find "natural levels" instead of "pegging" them artificially. Mr. Babson is pictured at the Babson Institute, Wellesley, Mass., where he made his argument.



NEW X-RAY EQUIPMENT AT ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL—Next Monday afternoon at 4, Lieutenant-Governor E. W. Hamber will open the newly equipped X-Ray department at St. Joseph's, and the Sisters of St. Ann will be pleased to show visitors the equipment any afternoon during the week from 3 to 5. The top picture shows the gastric and fluroscopic room, with complete table, transformer and control panel. In the lower picture is shown the 400,000-volt treatment chamber with ceiling-mounted, oil-filled X-Ray tube drum, hydraulic table and patient's loudspeaker communication system.

PREVIEW OF MEMORIAL TO HEROIC DEAD—Ready to be unveiled by the King next year, Canada's National War Memorial at Ottawa is now complete. It is, in a sense, a memorial also to Vernon March, who died after winning the Government's contest for the design in 1925. The completion of the project was undertaken as a labor of love by his three older brothers, Sydney (upper left), Percival (upper right), and Walter. At the left is a close-up view of the sculptured figures on the memorial.



GRINS AT CRITICS—Prime Minister Chamberlain of Great Britain is pictured above as he arrived back in London after a brief vacation in Scotland. On the job again, he will cope with such knotty problems as the revolt in Palestine and critics of the "Munich Peace" plan.
